Snark Fails, Nose-Dives Into Ground

Guided Missile Explodes Upon Leaving Pad

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Snark guided missile crashed and exploded on launching Friday night, ending another bad day for rocketry at the Cape.

The 69-foot intercontinental range Snark streaked from its pad and within seconds nose-dived into the ground. Burning fuel immediately consumed the missile in a brief but spectacular fire. No one was hurt.

Earlier, the Air Force called off an attempt to send a missile across the path of the Explorer VI Paddle Wheel satellite and the Navy abandoned to the sea a camera-carrying nose cone that may hold the first picture of a complete hurricane.

The Nike-Cajon rocket that boosted the camera nose cone went slightly off course, making recovery of the cone more difficult.

TEST

Thursday, an Atlas-Able rocket being groomed to hurl a satellite about the moon blew up during a static test.

The Snark has been fired more than sixty times and is considered one of the most reliable U. S. rockets. It recently was declared operational and several of the missiles are stationed with the 702nd Strategic Missile Wing at Presque Isle, Maine.

Friday's Snark was scheduled to carry a simulated warhead to a watery target off Ascension Island 5,000 miles away.

The cause of the failure was not immediately known.

The Air Force effort was scheduled for 3:30 a.m., when Explorer VI was at the low point of its orbit, about 137 miles. The missile was to have been launched from beneath the wing of a B47 jet bomber as the satellite passed over Jacksonville, Fla., at a speed of 26,000 miles an hour.

If successful, the supersonic Martin-made missile would have crossed about 10 miles in front of the whirling Paddle Wheel over Eleuthera Island in the Bahamas. The test might have proved the feasibility of intercepting an enemy satellite.

Ceylon Head Dies After Gun Attack

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike died Saturday from bullet wounds inflicted Friday by an assassin clad in the robes of a Buddhist monk.

The death announcement came after a report that said the Prime Minister spent a restless night. Bandaranaike, 60, was struck by three 45-caliber bullets in the attack at his private bungalow at Roomed Place, Colombo's most luxurious residential area.

The bullets damaged the liver, spleen and one arm of the frail British-educated prime minister. After the shooting, Bandaranaike forgave his attacker and appealed for compassion for "this foolish man."

Bandaranaike then underwent five hours of corrective surgery, but after the operation a medical bulletin had reported him still gravely ill.

The assassin was shot in one knee by a sentry and captured. Bandaranaike, a champion of Ceylonese independence from Britain, had led this island nation into the Asian neutral bloc. He took power in April 1956 on a wave of Sinhalese communalism, Buddhist revivalism and militant hostility to Western ways of living.

Showers Seen For Area Today

The weather outlook for north-east Louisiana today is partly cloudy with scattered thundershowers mostly in the afternoon, according to FAA Communications at Selman Field.

The forecast for the remainder of the state and Arkansas is the same, except for cooler temperatures in the north and west portions.

Temperatures in the Twin Cities ranged from a high of 88 to a low of 68 yesterday.

A local teacher who works outside, as well as in school, with children, was told by a friend that if she saw any child needing suitable clothing for school to go to a certain store and get the garments, with the bill being sent to him.

Two boys she found needed trousers badly so after an investigation into the home financial situation she proceeded to take the two boys, one in first grade and the other in a grade for a 10-year-old.

On the way to the store she sought to impress need for education on the little fellows. She said they should at least plan to get a high school education.

FBI CALLED

'Winner' Of Medal Foiled By Editors

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Lady Luck wasn't smiling on Marcus Franklin Silvers.

His service record included a discharge from the Air Force as undesirable. In civilian life he ran through a series of jobs, hampered by a lack of education.

In midsummer, he found himself with a wife and three children to support but no job. So he took what looked like a way out and decided to become a hero—a Medal of Honor winner. From an Army manual at the public library he copied the name of Pte. Ernest E. West, Wurtland, Ky., who on the night of Oct. 12, 1952, rescued ambushed buddies in the battle of "Heartbreak Ridge" in Korea.

As the FBI related his story to a U.S. commissioner Friday, Silvers then obtained a duplicate of West's Medal of Honor certificate by writing appropriate Army agencies. With it, he went to various recruiting offices here and made application to re-enlist, preferably as an officer. He said he was a graduate lawyer.

Then, he goofed. He tried to get the certificate registered, but was turned down by the Norfolk Corporation Court. So he went to the newsroom of the Norfolk Ledger-Star, shyly asking for help.

Editors wanted a little story about Silvers. When he failed to return for an interview, they be-

Plane Crash Over Islands Fatal To 16

No Survivors Located By Search Party

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Sixteen persons died Thursday night when a commercial airliner flying over the wild Aleutian Islands crashed into a mountain and burst into flames.

A search party Friday worked its way up to the 2,000-foot level on the side of an unnamed 5,000-foot peak of Great Sitkin Island and reported there were no survivors in the wreckage of the Reeve Aleutian Airways DC4.

A Navy pilot who first spotted the wreckage said only the tail section of the four-engine airliner was intact. The remainder of the plane was still burning when first sighted.

The airliner, piloted by Eugene Strouse, a lieutenant colonel in the Air Force, once commanded an air rescue squadron in Alaska. His wife and two children live here, and his father, O. B. Strouse, at Topeka, Kan.

Other crew members, all of Anchorage, were Robert Pollom, copilot; Bryan Green, flight engineer; and...

Guerrillas Attack Reds In New Surge

KALIMPONG, India (UPI) — Tibetan guerrilla fighters have attacked Communist Chinese occupation troops in a new multi-front campaign, reports reaching here said Friday.

A "most violent uprising" had taken place in western Tibet where rebel Khampa tribesmen were most active, according to the reports.

Earlier accounts supplied by travelers returning to the Indian frontier from Tibet said fighting also had broken out anew in the holy city of Lhasa for the first time since the raging battle that marked the Dalai Lama's flight to Mussoorie, India, last March 17.

The Khampas' desperate campaign of resistance to Red Chinese repression was said to be reaching a new peak, with one Calcutta correspondent reporting "many Communist soldiers killed."

Sources both here and in nearby Darjeeling said the Chinese were digging trenches and building underground fortifications along Tibet's border with the Indian state of Uttar Pradesh.

It was not clear whether the action was designed as a defense against guerrilla attacks or to cut off Tibetans hoping to flee to India, or whether it was connected with Red China's current border dispute with India.

Where Uttar Pradesh is bound by Tibet in the northeast the border largely is undefined.

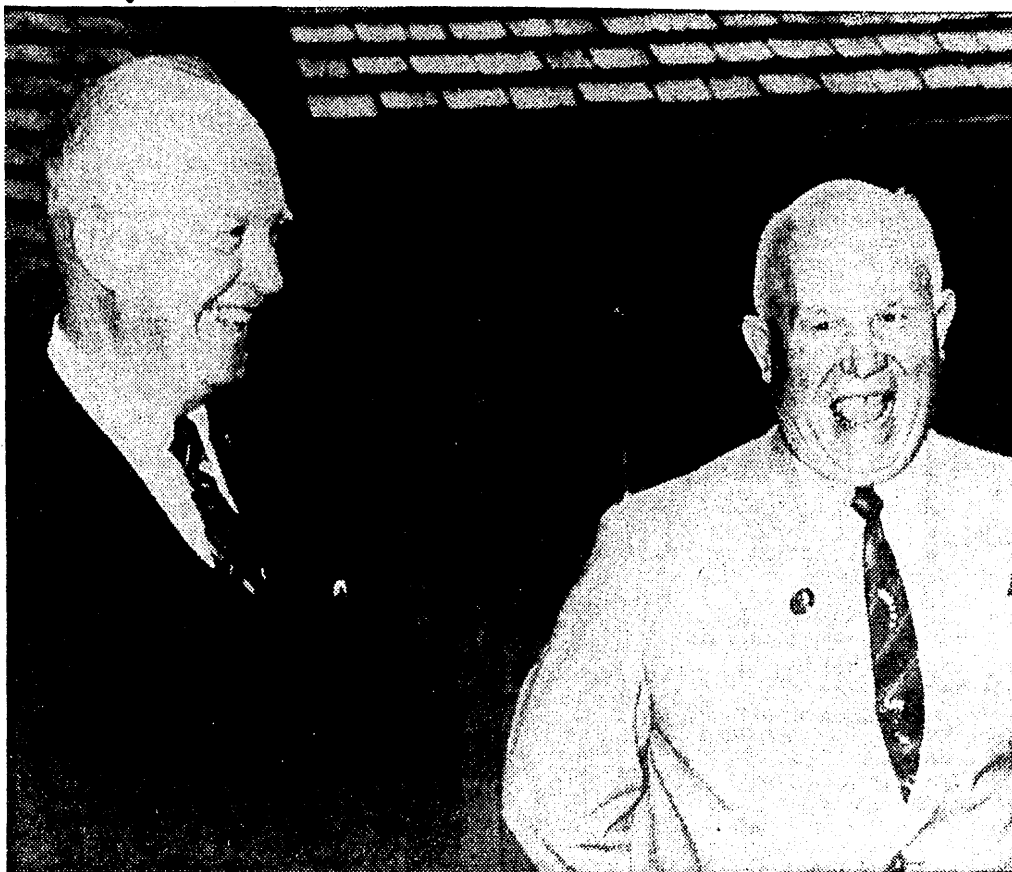

In New Delhi the Indian government still was studying the latest letter from Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai on the border dispute. Informal sources said a reply would be sent early next month.

Ministers View Talks Warily

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Limited hopes for the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks were voiced at the United Nations Friday by the foreign ministers of four nations allied in the Western defense network.

In general policy statements to the General Assembly, the foreign affairs chiefs of Belgium, Turkey, Denmark and Pakistan indicated they do not expect major policy shifts to result from the talks between the President and the Soviet Premier.

Communist speakers generally held out higher hopes for the meetings. Foreign Minister Karlo Lukin of Bulgaria said the talks open up new opportunities for the General Assembly.

Arabia Tells Cease-Fire Stipulation

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Saudi Arabia announced Friday the Algerian rebels would agree to negotiate a cease-fire if France would permit the United Nations to supervise an election to decide Algeria's future.

Ahmad Shukairy, Saudi Arabian foreign minister and often a spokesman for Arab policies, made the announcement in his general policy statement to the General Assembly.

The first unofficial French reaction was cool. French sources questioned whether Shukairy actually spoke with authority.

MEMBERS

Members of the Algerian "provisional government" in exile have been meeting in Tunisia the past week studying President Charles de Gaulle's proposals for Algeria. They have not made any official statement.

De Gaulle last week offered the Algerians the right to choose their own destiny — integration with France, self-government in alliance with France or independence — in an election to be held within four years after the shooting stops.

The general assembly was only half filled during Shukairy's address. The French delegation was absent.

Before getting to his announcement about the cease-fire, Shukairy lambasted the De Gaulle regime for its record in Algeria.

At one point, assembly President Dr. Victor Andres Balaunde intervened to remind him he was speaking in "a hall of peace."

Shukairy told the assembly:

"If President De Gaulle really means business, if he desires real democracy and if he wants a clean and neat referendum, he should hand over the whole operation to the United Nations."

'Little Augie' Shot To Death

NEW YORK (AP) — The body of a man tentatively identified by police as "Little Augie" Pisano, once a top henchman of Al Capone and a notorious underworld figure, was found in a swanky car on a Queens street Friday night. A young blonde woman's body was beside him, both had been shot to death.

Police said the woman was wearing a mink stole. She had been shot in the back of the neck. The man had been shot in the temple and in the neck.

Pisano, also known as Anthony Carfano, was described as a close friend of racketeer Frank Costello for 20 years, a former "vice regent" for Capone and a widely known racketeer and hoodlum in the East, especially in the New York area and Florida. His home was listed as Long Beach, N.Y., on Long Island.

Thousands Protesting Executions

BEIRUT (UPI) — An estimated 5,000 anti-Communist demonstrators clashed with Lebanese army troops Friday in a protest against the execution in Baghdad Sunday of 17 persons convicted of conspiring against Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem.

The clash took place two blocks from the pink stucco Iraqi Embassy here while hundreds of spectators crowded windows and balconies to watch. A stray bullet out the power line leading into the embassy building.

One demonstrator was reported killed and 17 injured, one seriously, in the clash near the embassy and in lesser scuffles between police and rioters in various sections of the city.

Because of the violence the Soviet Embassy was placed under heavy guard and known pro-Soviet and pro-Iraqi Lebanese were advised to stay off the street.

The mob finally was dispersed with a bombardment of tear gas and noise bombs and warning shots fired into the air. By afternoon the scene was quiet.

Simultaneous demonstrations broke out in the port cities of Tripoli and Sidon.

The demonstrators here carried slogans reading, "The Arab people..."

KHRUSH DIDN'T KNOW

Atomic Fly Killer Already Sees Use

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Here's a surprise for Nikita Khrushchev: America already has invented that atomic fly killer he said the Russians were working on.

Agriculture Department scientists perfected it about five years ago and have used it to kill billions of flies. Now they are looking around for more pests to destroy.

Khrushchev drew a laugh while touring a Pittsburgh steel mill Thursday when he remarked that the Russians were "trying to invent a machine to kill flies with atomic energy." He seemed to think success would put the Soviets one up on this country.

But the Agriculture Department has turned out a fly killer that uses gamma rays from cobalt made radioactive in an atomic reactor. It accomplishes its deadly purpose by relying on the sexual laws of nature.

Stepping back into the big game of Russian negotiations after two years on the sidelines as envoy to the Philippines, he will take with him the results of a close study of Russia's troublesome partner in Asia, Communist China.

Bohlen has maintained a personal policy of no on-the-record press conferences or quotable interviews. However, from various informal talks he has given in Manila and from the accounts of close associates, the following reliable summary of his current thinking can be constructed:

VISIT

—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to the United States and President Eisenhower's scheduled return call to Moscow are all for the good. Khrushchev's U.S. visit won't change Khrushchev. Bohlen believes, but he leans to the British thinking that...

Many stores in the Twin Cities, in keeping with the occasion, arranged displays of the latest fashions in felts.

No Specific Topic Heard At Outset

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)

— President Eisenhower and the Soviet Union's Premier Nikita Khrushchev met Friday night on the summit of a mountain to discuss cold war issues between their countries.

The leaders of the world's two most powerful nations began their historic conference within 10 minutes after they flew together in a helicopter to Eisenhower's Camp David, Md., mountain retreat some 25 miles from here.

Their initial face-to-face meeting, on the sunporch of Eisenhower's mountain lodge, got under way with a White House reminder that Eisenhower would avoid negotiating behind the backs of U. S. allies on problems involving them.

Word that the two leaders had begun their talks was relayed to newsmen here by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty.

GENERAL

Hagerty said the opening meeting was "a general discussion of the world situation rather than any specific topic as such."

He reported the talks would continue over the dinner table.

In response to questions, Hagerty said the only negotiations would be on strictly Soviet-American matters such as a new agreement to exchange educational, scientific and cultural delegations.

Hagerty did not of course rule out discussion between the two leaders of such crucial issues as Berlin, disarmament and nuclear tests.

In saying that Eisenhower would "negotiate" only on U.S.-Soviet matters, he made it clear it is the President's position that no...

Negro Robs Shreveport Branch Bank

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — A lone Negro robbed a Lakeshore Drive branch of the Louisiana Bank and Trust Co. of $9,500 shortly after noon today but was quickly captured and the money recovered.

The Negro, identified by police as Johnny Lovett, 29, of Kansas City, Mo., was subdued by Charles Tiesburg, 31, manager of the bank, who traced him across the street into a supermarket.

Lovett was knocked to the floor in the store, and clerks rushed to Tiesburg's aid and summoned help.

HEAD CUT

The robber's head struck the tile floor and he suffered a cut. Some of the blood got on Tiesburg's clothing.

The Negro told police a white man whom he could not identify forced him at pistol point to stage the holdup.

Police however discounted this story. Bank officials said the robber entered the bank and walked up to the teller's cage manned by Robert Dickinson, 23, with his hat over his right hand the intruder passed a note to Dickinson which read:

"This is a hold-up. Put the money in this sack. I have a pistol."

Dickinson, believing the man's hat concealed a pistol, passed the money to him and the Negro walked out the front door. Not until the bandit left Dickinson tell Tiesburg of the robbery.

The bank manager immediately...

Their exploratory talks presumably could lay the groundwork for further atom-for-peace discussions between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev this weekend.

Cases for the week ending Sept. 19 totaled 326, compared with 291 and 273 respectively in the first two weeks of September. Last week's figure, second only to the 330 in the week ended Aug. 29, pushed the total so far this year to 3,407. This is more than twice the 1,618 paralytic cases reported up to this time last year. Thousands Protesting Executions

BEIRUT (UPI) — An estimated 5,000 anti-Communist demonstrators clashed with Lebanese army troops Friday in a protest against the execution in Baghdad Sunday of 17 persons convicted of conspiring against Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassam.

The clash took place two blocks from the pink stucco Iraqi Embassy here while hundreds of spectators crowded windows and balconies to watch. A stray bullet cut the power line leading into the embassy building.

One demonstrator was reported killed and 17 injured, one seriously, in the clash near the embassy and in lesser scuffles between police and rioters in various sections of the city.

Because of the violence the Soviet Embassy was placed under heavy guard and known pro-Soviet and pro-Iraqi Lebanese were advised to stay off the street.

The mob finally was dispersed with a bombardment of tear gas and noise bombs and warning shots fired into the air. By afternoon the scene was quiet.

Simultaneous demonstrations broke out in the port cities of Tripoli and Sidon.

The demonstrators here carried slogans reading, "The Arab People Demand Peace."

KHRUSH DIDN'T KNOW

Atomic Fly Killer Already Sees Use

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Here's a surprise for Nikita Khrushchev: America already has invented that atomic fly killer he said the Russians were working on.

Agriculture Department scientists perfected it about five years ago and have used it to kill billions of flies. Now they are looking around for more pests to destroy.

Khrushchev drew a laugh while touring a Pittsburgh steel mill Thursday when he remarked that the Russians were "trying to invent a machine to kill flies with atomic energy." He seemed to think success would put the Soviets one up on this country.

But the Agriculture Department has turned out a fly killer that uses gamma rays from cobalt made radioactive in an atomic reactor. It accomplishes its deadly purpose by relying on the sexual laws of nature.

Government scientists used it several years ago to rid the West Indian island of Curacao of a cat-scarce known as the screw-worm fly.

Since then they have declared war on screwworm flies in Florida and are thinking of turning their atomic weapons against other insects.

The scientists start out by raising millions of male screwworm flies in captivity, then sterilize them with gamma radiation. After that the male flies are released.

Riding on the crest of the Autumn season, Felt Hat Day moved into the Twin Cities area yesterday.

It brought attention to the changing seasons, and the traditional shift from the summer straw to the cooler weather head gear, the felt hat.

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)

President Eisenhower and the Soviet Union's Premier Nikita Khrushchev met Friday night on the summit of a mountain to discuss cold war issues between their countries.

The leaders of the world's two most powerful nations began their historic conference within 10 minutes after they flew together in a helicopter to Eisenhower's Camp David, Md., mountain retreat some 25 miles from here.

Their initial face-to-face meeting, on the sunporch of Eisenhower's mountain lodge, got under way with a White House reminder that Eisenhower would avoid negotiating behind the backs of U. S. allies on problems involving them.

Word that the two leaders had begun their talks was relayed to newsmen here by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty.

GENERAL

Hagerty said the opening meeting was "a general discussion of the world situation rather than any specific topic as such."

He reported the talks would continue over the dinner table.

In response to questions, Hagerty said the only negotiations would be on strictly Soviet-American matters such as a new agreement to exchange educational, scientific and cultural delegations.

Hagerty did not of course rule out discussion between the two leaders of such crucial issues as Berlin, disarmament and nuclear tests.

In saying that Eisenhower would "negotiate" only on U.S.-Soviet matters, he made it clear it is the President's position that no

Negro Robs Shreveport Branch Bank

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — A lone Negro robbed a Lakeshore Drive branch of the Louisiana Bank and Trust Co. of $8,500 shortly after noon today but was quickly captured and the money recovered.

The Negro, identified by police as Johnny Lovett, 29, of Kansas City, Mo., was subdued by Charles Tiesburg, 31, manager of the bank, who traced him across the street into a supermarket.

Lovett was knocked to the floor in the store, and clerks rushed to Tiesburg's aid and summoned help.

HEAD CUT

The robber's head struck the tile floor and he suffered a cut. Some of the blood got on Tiesburg's clothing.

The Negro told police a white man whom he could not identify forced him at pistol point to stage the holdup.

Police however discounted this story.

Bank officials said the robber entered the bank and walked up to the teller's cage manned by Robert Dickinson, 23. With his hat over his right hand the intruder passed a note to Dickinson which read: "This is a hold-up. Put the money in this sack. I have a pistol."

Dickinson, believing the man's hat concealed a pistol, passed the money to him and the Negro walked out the front door. No until the bandit left Dickinson tell Tiesburg of the robbery.

The bank manager immediately

final decisions will be reached on matters which directly concern U.S. allies, without first consulting them.

Even though the White House stressed Eisenhower would steer clear of "negotiations," there was the expressed hope on both sides that the Big Two could at least make a dent in major East-West disputes.

Eisenhower and Khrushchev began their long-awaited meeting in a jovial mood. Their helicopter trip direct from the White House lawn, took 35 minutes.

Laughingly they posed for photographers, then stroled into the main Aspen lodge.

Soviet-American problems due to come up included the Soviet's desire for more trade with this country and a possible agreement to exchange information on peaceful uses of Atomic energy.

Lower ranking U.S. and Soviet aides were understood to have outlined the main points of an atomic energy agreement in closed-door talks in Washington. Informal authorities said this would be looked over by Eisenhower and Khrushchev for final approval.

The two-day exchange calls for swapping information on some types of nuclear reactors, informants said, as well as visits by atomic scientists of each country and cooperation in the field of high energy physics.

Flanking Khrushchev at the first talks — scheduled to run through Sunday noon — were Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov and A. A. Soldatov, chief of the Foreign Office American desk.

Eisenhower was assisted by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Llewellyn E. Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow and Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to the United Nations escorted Khrushchev during the Premier's tour around the United States.

Hagerty told some 150 newsmen at press headquarters here that Friday night's session likely would be a short one, with Eisenhower and Khrushchev retiring early.

A movie of the atomic submarine Nautilus' historic trip under the north polar icecap was to be shown after dinner — at Khrushchev's request.

The film has been specially doubled in Russian for the showing.

"These meetings are discussion meetings only," Hagerty told newsmen. "There will be no attempt at negotiation, particularly on subjects which concern any other nation."

Andrew H. Berding, the State Department's assistant secretary of state in charge of public affairs, added: "Except on matters of purely bilateral interest."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, is scheduled to arrive by helicopter Saturday to join the discussions. So will other Soviet-U.S. officials who will shuttle in and out as their specialties are discussed.

Eisenhower and Khrushchev appeared likely to focus much of their talks on disarmament. Khrushchev has repeatedly pleaded for such an agreement but has always balked at agreeing to the kind of inspection Western authorities say is necessary to make sure neither side cheats.

Khrushchev's appeal for an easing of trade restrictions appears certain to run into strong opposition. Eisenhower's top advisers are ready to favor more trade but not in strategic machinery and other complex equipment which would have a potential.

The talks got under way in ideal autumn weather. The temperature was in the high 70s with the sun slanting through the trees.

Both Eisenhower and his guest chatted and joked through an interpreter as photographers snapped pictures in front of the lodge.

The hemmed Khrushchev, wearing a light gray suit, was first out of the black limousine which brought them to the lodge from a nearby airport.

The Kremlin chief spotted James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, and they shook hands heartily.

Then Eisenhower and Khrushchev moved to the front door while a battery of photographers and reporters crowded around.

"I am glad they don't shoot," Eisenhower said with a nod toward the cameramen.

The President's chuckling remark was translated for Khrushchev, and the Premier, eyes twinkling, shot back: "It's lucky Mr. Garst is not here."

That was an allusion to Roswell Garst, the Iowa farmer who was Khrushchev's host in Coon Rapids two days ago. At one time the crush of newsmen was so great that Garst threw corn husks and silage at some of them.

Khrushchev added with a grin: "If he (Garst) were here he would try to organize this his own way."

Eisenhower commented: "Everything seems to be quiet along this front."

"All the soldiers are peacefully inclined," Khrushchev said, grinning.

That may have been a reference to the detail of Marines, in fatigues and wearing side arms, on sentry duty throughout the mountain camp.

As Eisenhower and Khrushchev posed for pictures they were flanked by two of the sentries. There also was a Soviet security agent roving in the limousine with the President and Khrushchev.

Henry K. Hoffman, a clerk with the Monroe Post Office for 12 years, has been presented the first Superior Accomplishment Award to be given in the Monroe area.

Hoffman, 32, also is employed by the News-Star-World Publications in the circulation mail room. He resides at 2031 Lakeshore Dr., West Monroe.

Postmaster Woodrow W. Harthorn and Jiles N. Davis, postal foreman, presented the award and a $50 check to Hoffman yesterday in a ceremony at the Post Office.

George A. Gray, regional operations director for the Dallas Regional Office of the Post Office department, made the award "in recognition of notable performance."

Hathorne revealed that very few such awards are made throughout the country.

A World War II veteran, Hoffman served as a mail carrier before enlisting in the Coast Guard in 1944.

He was appointed a postal clerk here in 1945, and advanced to the top position as distribution clerk on June 30, 1956.

Hathorne and Jiles recommended him for the award, based on his "outstanding work on any job, and his superior performance from July 1958 through June 30, 1959."

Hoffman is responsible for making sure mail is routed correctly to all points in the Louisiana scheme and Fort Worth division during his working hours, 3 to 11:30 p.m.

In a letter announcing the award, Gray told Hoffman that: "Your Postmaster and supervisors have informed me of your sustained, above average performance of assigned duties as a distribution clerk."

In addition to high quality and quantity of work performed, you have demonstrated initiative, diligence, cooperativeness and devotion to duty, to the extent that both our office and the Post Office Department have benefited.

"It is in recognition and appreciation of these accomplishments that this award is presented."

CROSSETT (Special) — A fire that resulted in the death of two Negro children swept through their home Thursday while their uncle was thwarted in his attempt to phone the fire department by a busy party line.

Flames engulfed instantly the life of Dannie Kay Modisette, a girl, who would have been three yesterday. The other victim, eight-month-old Sandy Modisette, died from extensive burns in a Crossett hospital at 12:15 p.m. yesterday.

Their uncle, Tom Goree discovered the blaze at about 5 p.m. and hurried to phone the fire department. But when he picked up the receiver he heard a woman talking.

Goree commanded urgently, "Fire department! Let me call the fire department! The house is burning down and the kids are in it! If you don't let me get the fire department, I'll get the police on you!"

ANSWER
He was answered with, "Now ain't that something!"

Again Goree demanded, "I got to get the fire department!"

This time he heard, "Let's keep on talking."

Goree then begged and was told, "No, I'm not going to hang up the phone."

Then Goree dashed from the house and down the street to the home of his brother. It was locked and Goree had to break in to get to another phone.

When firemen arrived Dannie Kay's body was found face down among the smoking ruins. Sandy was taken to the hospital.

The children were the daughter and grandson of Annie Mae Modisette, a widow who was at work at the time of the fire.

Her house is located in the back yard of Nanny Goree, her mother.

Last night police said a hearing was tentatively scheduled for Monday.

The busy line was listed under the number of Elijah Radford, a Negro Baptist preacher.

2 Tots Hurt When Struck By Cars Here

Two two-year-old children were injured in separate auto accidents in West Monroe yesterday, Police reported.

Injured were Rocky Delanio; and Coleman Cyrus Jr., Negro. The Delanio child was struck by a truck in the 700 block of S. Eighth St. at 2:30 p.m. He was rushed to Wright-Bendel clinic and was hospitalized.

Officers said that Mrs. Delanio said she did not think the child was hurt badly.

CHARGED
Police charged Burley Anderson, 54, Negro of Route 3, West Monroe with reckless driving and causing personal injury.

Witnesses said that Anderson's truck skidded sideways, striking the child with the back fender, police reported.

The Cyrus child was injured at 323 Class St. about 4 p.m. as Ruby Lee Cyrus, 29-year-old Negro, 308 Class St., backed her car out of a driveway, police said.

The youngster's mother, Hattie Mae Cyrus, said she thought the accident was unavoidable and did not file charges.

The child was admitted to St. Francis hospital with head injuries. Doctors said that his scalp was split down the middle, but that the cut was not deep enough to be very serious.

He was unable to tell exactly the number on the faculty

which is much enlarged this fall, but he said it would be around 150. Also he was proud to state that there are 43 members who have earned their PH.D's.

Construction

In the great wave of building that is noticed throughout the Twin Cities, there will soon be added construction shortly of a total of $117,000 at the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home here.

Flames engulfed instantly the life of Dannie Kay Modisette, a girl, who would have been three yesterday. The other victim, eight-month-old Sandy Modisette, died from extensive burns in a Crossett hospital at 12:15 p.m. yesterday.

Their uncle, Tom Goree discovered the blaze at about 5 p.m. and hurried to phone the fire department. But when he picked up the receiver he heard a woman talking.

Goree commanded urgently, "Fire department, let me call the fire department! The house is burning down and the kids are in it! If you don't let me get the fire department, I'll get the police on you!"

ANSWER

He was answered with, "Now ain't that something!"

Again Goree demanded, "I got to get the fire department!" This time he heard, "Let's keep on talking."

Goree then begged and was told, "No, I'm not going to hang up the phone."

Then Goree dashed from the house and down the street to the home of his brother. It was locked and Goree had to break in to get to another phone.

When firemen arrived Dannie Kay's body was found face down among the smoking ruins. Sandy was taken to the hospital.

The children were the daughter and grandson of Annie Mae Modisette, a widow who was at work at the time of the fire.

Her house is located in the back yard of Nanny Goree, her mother.

Last night police said a hearing was tentatively scheduled for Monday.

The busy line was listed under the number of Elijah Radford, a Negro Baptist preacher.

2 Tots Hurt When Struck By Cars Here

Two two-year-old children were injured in separate auto accidents in West Monroe yesterday, Police reported.

Injured were Rocky Delanio; and Coleman Cyrus Jr., Negro. The Delanio child was struck by a truck in the 700 block of S. Eighth St. at 2:30 p.m. He was rushed to Wright-Bendel clinic and was hospitalized.

Officers said that Mrs. Delanio said she did not think the child was hurt badly.

CHARGED

Police charged Burley Anderson, 34, Negro of Route 3, West Monroe with reckless driving and causing personal injury.

Witnesses said that Anderson's truck skidded sideways, striking the child with the back fender, police reported.

The Cyrus child was injured at 328 Class St. about 4 p.m. as Ruby Lee Cyrus, 29-year-old Negro, 308 Class St., backed her car out of a driveway, police said.

The youngster's mother, Hattie Mae Cyrus, said she thought the accident was unavoidable and did not file charges.

The child was admitted to St. Francis hospital with head injuries. Doctors said that his scalp was split down the middle, but that the cut was not deep enough to be very serious.

Successful

Dr. W. R. Hammond, telling of the reception held at Northeast State by President and Mrs. George T. Walker, assured that it was the most successful that he has ever known at the local fast growing college.

"There were more prominent men and women attending than at any similar event held at the college," Dr. Hammond stated. He should know for he ranks as oldest member of the men of the faculty.

He was unable to tell exactly the number on the faculty

which is much enlarged this fall, but he said it would be around 150. Also he was proud to state that there are 43 members who have earned their PHD's.

Construction

In the great wave of building that is noticed throughout the Twin Cities, there will soon be added construction shortly of a total of $117,000 at the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home here.

This work has already been approved and additions to dormitories will be constructed to care for this ever expanding institution.

CLOTHES Make Your Man

By Harry Juster

DEAR MR. JUSTER: My husband feels that even though he doesn't wear all the new styles, if he dresses neatly and not outlandishly, he's not in poor taste. I agree. When fashion dictated the sack, I refused to wear it. Why should he be criticized when his clothes happen to vary with fashion decrees?

Mrs. C. L. If you sacked the sack dress because it did nothing for you, congratulations. Any style should be worn only if it improves appearance, not merely because it's in fashion. Arbitrarily refusing to wear new styles, however, is not using the best judgment if they make you look better. It's not a matter of following "fashion dictators," but determining which fashions do more for you.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Does a man 5 feet 6 inches look taller wearing his suit coat unusually long and trousers down to the heels? A friend of my husband sold him on this idea. I don't agree and told him we should get your opinion. What do you think?

Mrs. Arthur M. If this fellow is a good friend of your husband, he'll refrain from trying to be a fashion expert. A longer coat cuts the length of his legs and actually shortens him. All that heel touching pants will accomplish is to catch a lot of dirt. A shorter jacket that just covers the seat combined with trim, straight hanging trousers that break slightly at the top of the shoe will give the illusion of more height.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: I've been wearing nothing but button down shirts because I like them. Recently I bought one of the new Continental suits. The salesman suggested that a wide spread collar shirt would look better with it and tried to sell me some. Was he right or just trying to make a sale?

Ray H. Right. I like button down collars, too, but use them with more casual type suits and sportcoats. The Continental is basically a sharper, dressier-styled suit and calls for accessories of a similar nature. My choice is either a wide spread or short round collar shirt.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: The boy I have been going with the last six months is neat and dresses nicely except for one thing. His ties look like he borrowed them from his grandfather's old leftovers. Do you think he'd resent it if I gave him a few as a gift?

Dot Smart girl! It's uncanny how a little thing like a tie can make or break the looks of a man's outfit. Only one thing. Why not wait until his birthday, a holiday or a special occasion to make your purpose less obvious? A man

OBSCENE PICS

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin police Friday arrested a man accused of attempting to get female employees of the Bonn Defense Ministry to pose for obscene photos. Hans Engelmann, 44, is also charged with intending to deliver such photos to East German intelligence for use as a blackmail weapon to enlist spies.

The investigating judge said Engelmann came to West Germany in 1937 as a refugee.

'Copter Blade Cuts Off Head Of Machinist

LOVINGTON, Va. (AP) — A whirling helicopter blade cut off the head of King Burl Ferguson, 33, father of three.

A witness said the helicopter landed on a special ramp of a plant her to refuel Thursday. The motor was cut off, but the big blade continued turning.

Ferguson, a machinist, was crouched on the rear bumper of a fuel truck. Suddenly, the witness said, he stood up to work a valve on the top of the truck. The blade hit him just above the eyes.

Hazing Goes Astray

People throughout the nation were shocked recently at the hazing death of a student fraternity pledge at a college in Los Angeles. It was an inexcusable, revolting death. Those who were to be his brothers were culpable both before and after the fact.

As a part of his "initiation," the student was required to try to swallow a piece of raw liver a half-inch thick and four inches long. Once the liver was in his throat, he could neither get it up or down. With his throat filled, he choked to death.

An ambulance was called and the ambulance attendants were ready to attempt resuscitation but not one of the members of the fraternity who had ordered the liver-swallowing stunt would tell the attendants that the piece of liver was stuck in the youth's throat. If they had done so, it might have been possible to save his life.

Our civilization has gone far in recent years in abolishing the deadly aspects of Hell Week hazing on college campuses and has made considerable progress in eliminating hazing in general but it has not progressed far enough.

A man can still die — choking senselessly in an infantile game.

This death was inexcusable, avoidable, primitive and pointless.

Personal attacks and attacks of indignity upon the person of our college and high school students have no proper place in our campus social system.

This is especially true of students who do not join fraternities and who attend school for the purpose of learning. Yet the custom of heaping indignities upon these students and of forcing them to do menial tasks for upper classmen still persists both in our colleges and high schools.

If a freshman student in either high school or college is willing to be the victim of pranks and indignities and to do menial jobs for the students in higher grades it may be permissible, although it is doubtful if this does much toward upholding either the morale or the dignity of the school. If he is not willing, he certainly deserves the protection of the school authorities, just as a citizen who does not want to be molested is entitled to protection by peace officers.

There are those who will argue that a few deaths occur no matter what a person may do and that the few deaths which occur from hazing usually have some sort of freak angle attached to them. This may be true but the deaths do call some attention to the forms of so-called "fun" which sorority and fraternity pledges and some students who want nothing more than to attend to their studies must endure.

School officials usually take the position that acts performed by fraternity pledges are matters of personal privilege and choice and that there is no reason for them to interfere. Yet many schools and many parents object to the fraternities for a number of reasons, one of which is the grotesque forms of hazing which many of them use. From time to time, petitions request that fraternities be abolished and a good many schools have abolished them.

In the Los Angeles case the students who participated in the hazing were expelled and the fraternity was suspended. Thus, it is clear that school officials have authority to act even in the fraternities, where membership is by invitation and is voluntary.

"People kill sometimes," a disturbed television actor said recently, and it is all too true. Sometimes we forget how many ways we snuff out lives. There are unavoidable accidents, temper tantrums which result in berserk outbreaks and accidents which are easily avoidable.

The Los Angeles student is dead and his would-be brothers are accused of interfering with an ambulance driver's attempt to save their pledge's life.

It is written off as another useless death.

Southern Ups And Downs

Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi has spoken out with words many in the south have thought but too seldom uttered in public. He told an Atlanta service club audience the south had no reason to feel ashamed of its efforts and the people should stop playing the "poor folks" role.

The influence of the northern self-righteousness following the Civil War bit deeply into southern pride as well as wealth. Gov. Coleman told his audience some of the reasons behind this. He pointed to figures which showed Mississippi to be the fifth wealthiest state in the nation in 1860.

By 1880, the Civil War's destruction and "reconstruction" pulled the state to the bottom of the nation in per capita wealth. Gov. Coleman traced the ups and downs of Mississippi's recovery to a position around 60 per cent of the national average in income at the present time. He predicted his state's income would equal the national per capita average within a few years.

The comeback — even if it required nearly 80 years — is something for which every southerner may take pride. For the story of Mississippi is the story of every southern state. The war aim of the north was the destruction of the south's ability to produce wealth. The freeing of the slaves, while it also pleased the idealists of the northern cause, further serviced the destructive intentions by dumping a great number of ex-slaves on the states to educate.

As Gov. Coleman put it, "South-

erners had to drag these people along with them."

By way of comparison, the West German economy has made a fantastic comeback during the years following World War II. But West Germany missed out on "reconstruction." Also, the human burden which Russia deliberately pushed out of eastern Europe onto the western zones of Germany was less difficult to train for industrial work and self-sustaining positions than were the freed slaves of the south.

Considering these all important factors with which the south had to cope — "reconstruction" which tore down, and the utterly dependent "freed" slaves — recovery even to 60 per cent of the national average income over an 80-year period is an excellent accomplishment.

The north also is beginning to realize just what the south was given to carry out. With populations in cities as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Washington, D. C., now showing large elements of peoples not well adapted to what may be considered normal U. S. manners and morals, these cities are turning to the south for leadership.

The "poor folks" role described by Gov. Coleman — that of calling for federal aid when there is no good reason — is becoming more and more out of place.

In more ways than one, the north is joining a south which it could not permanently lick.

The Ride Seems To Be Getting Rougher

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Nixon Only Candidate

Governor Nelson Rockefeller May Be Willing To Test Strength Later But Not Now

The Khrushchev interlude cannot affect the presidential election which is now in the making. The only candidate for the Republican nomination, at the moment, is the Vice President, Richard Nixon. Testing his strength, like a boy about to go for a swim, putting his feet in the water to see how it feels, is Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York. He apparently wants to be President but does not want to risk defeat either for the nomination or at the election. There are no sure things in American politics and timid souls do not last long in this game.

It is unusual that no other possibilities present themselves among the Republicans and truth to tell, there do not seem to be any others. Maybe, someone will emerge between now and the summer of 1960, but it is not likely. Time's a-passing, and the Vice President, Richard Nixon, has been doing well in establishing in the public mind the fact that if he had to take the presidency, he could handle the job. That is an extraordinarily good start for a candidate.

The Democrats started with a galaxy of candidates but apparently they are gradually eliminating themselves. The Democrats also have candidates for Vice President and secretary of state which is a most unusual procedure.

Adlai Stevenson, already twice defeated, was building a candidacy. Much depended upon what happened in the New York City Democratic primaries, which Carmine DeSapio won, although not as readily as he might have liked. The fact is that the reformers, led by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Herbert Lehman and Thomas Finletter, spent considerable money and energy attempting to defeat Carmine DeSapio, which they failed to do. Their hope now is that they can use the argument that he did not win as magnificently as he might have. That, of course, is meaningless. Carmine is in; Mrs. Roosevelt is out. And that means that at the 1960 Democratic convention, an anti-Stevenson delegation will come from New York.

Harry Truman comes to New York often to see his daughter and her children. He takes a walk each morning, followed by reporters who retell his words of wisdom. It is to be noted that Harry Truman is no mean personality in this huge city and that many Democrats listen to him. It is said among Democrats that Harry Truman is not favorably disposed toward Adlai Stevenson but that he prefers Stuart Symington, the senator from Missouri. It figures.

One of the problems that bother the Democrats is religion. Since Senator John Kennedy has been a candidate for the presidency, the Democrats have been forced to recognize that in the big Northern cities many of the most ardent Democrats are Roman Catholics and that they object to the position that no Catholic can ever be President of the United States. They regard it as discriminatory without constitutional foundation. Therefore, they are angling for a Roman Catholic Vice President.

It is very doubtful that Senator Kennedy would accept the nomination for the vice presidency, but then again he might and that would settle a very touchy situation. Governor Pat Brown of California and Mayor Robert Wagner of New York City are prospective Democratic candidates for the vice presidency. Both are Roman Catholics. Neither has had any special training for the presidency, but both are adept in politics.

Senator Lyndon Johnson is not to be discounted among the Democratic candidates. He is extremely popular in his own party, has the respect of Republicans, and is likely to be antagonistic to the ADA. These Americans for Democratic Action seem to have outgrown their welcome in the Democratic Party. Mrs. Roosevelt's defeat in the New York City primaries has done the ADA no good. For one thing, it has disclosed that where her following is large, the voters are likely to be independent rather than partisan. This may be a virtue but from the standpoint of practical politics, it means that the Democrats cannot figure that they will stay put, as the old-time club house boys always did, whether they were bought or not.

It is too bad that Khrushchev did not come in the autumn of 1960 rather than now. It might be useful for him to see how an election is worked here; he could learn how to get himself elected without purges.

BASCOM TIMMONS

Dems Fear Split

Unprecedentedly Large Field Of Candidates Is Worrisome

Can the Democrats avoid a split over their platform as well as a long deadlock between what now looks like an unprecedentedly large field of Presidential candidates in their 1960 National Convention at Los Angeles?

That was the question members were asking one another at the meeting of the Democratic National Committee and of State Chairmen in Washington.

The National Committee was congratulating itself that it had made a contribution toward avoiding a schism. The widely-predicted brawl at their meeting had not eventuated. There had been a show of harmony where discord had been expected.

Some of the committeemen were ungrudgingly giving credit for the display of harmony to a man who was not even here — former President Harry S. Truman. Mr. Truman is not famed as a harmonizer or as a unifying force. But the plea he made before the Midwest Democratic Conference at Kansas City the previous weekend had its effect here.

Truman told Democrats to cease fighting Democrats and combine against the Republicans. Under all the circumstances that is a very large order. It will depend in the end on what happens at the Democratic National convention next year, not what transpired at the meeting of the Democratic National Committee here last week.

No floor battle was precipitated here over the apportionment of delegates to the 1960 national convention. The South lost ground there. The eleven former Confederate States will have only 23.3 per cent of the convention's total delegate strength as compared with 24.3 in the 1956 convention. It was merely a continuation of the whittling away of Dixie when the party abandoned its historic requirement of a two-thirds majority for the nomination of Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates.

Under the two-thirds rule the South in conjunction with the border States which usually went along with it exercised a veto power in national conventions. It no longer does. And a gadget which some Southern States have invoked hoping to produce an electoral college veto was the reason for the committee's recommendation of the so-called "loyalty oath" or "good faith" pledge.

The effect of the loyalty rule would be to bar from the Los Angeles nominating convention Southern delegates not willing to pledge that their State's electoral vote will be cast for the Democratic candidates if the Democratic electors carry such States.

But the strength of the rule recommended by the committee is questionable if it is adopted by the national convention. The Democratic State conventions in the half dozen States which have passed laws giving freedom of choice and power to withhold state electoral votes can be expected to adhere to these recently passed laws.

And if the delegates from Arkansas, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Georgia are barred at the convention door the split is there ab initio, as the lawyers say. That is a big, troublesome question for next year.

Civil rights, the big issue which separates the Northern and Western wing of the party from the South has been postponed in Congress and will face the Democrats in legislative halls even before it plagues them in their national convention in 1960. Fights over delegate credentials and platform planks are violent but usually are of short duration.

The thing that could keep the convention in a long session is a deadlock over the nomination of a Presidential candidate and that seems more likely than at any time in 36 years. There may be a total of 25 candidates, favorite sons and otherwise, at Los Angeles. The biggest previous field was at Madison Square Garden in New York in 1924. Twenty were voted on in the 103 ballot marathon that year with Governor Alfred E. Smith and former Secretary of Treasury William G. McAdoo the leaders and a third of the convention delegates were held by the eighteen candidates of lesser strength.

Thrice in modern times have the Democrats had such deadlocks. When at Baltimore in 1912 Woodrow Wilson, Champ Clark, Oscar W. Underwood and others of lesser strength held the convention tight for 46 ballots, a big Republican William Howard Taft — Theodore Roosevelt split saved the Democrats.

But they took an electoral shelling after each of the successive deadlocks in 1920 at San Francisco and 1924 at New York. Another such long stalemate in 1960 could produce the same disastrous result.

Early Diagnosis Of Diabetes Could Prevent Blindness

"Dear Dr. Steinrohn: Why all the fuss about diagnosing diabetes early? I've known people who must have had it for some time before they found out. When it was no longer unmistakable because of weight loss, increased appetite and frequent trips to the bathroom, their doctor started them on their diets and insulin. In no time at all, they looked and felt better than they had in years. Mrs. H. H., Texas."

ANSWER: It's the old familiar story again, Mrs. H. H.: People did not become concerned about illness unless they see a "big blaze." Why call out the fire department unless the building is in danger of being gutted?

Why bother the doctor with little things? Why bother about diabetes until the urine and blood are overloaded with sugar? Why take those silly blood sugar and urine tests — as the drives suggest — when you are feeling well?

I suppose the answer is evident. A late call to the fire department doesn't always result in complete loss of the building. But as far as your health is concerned, you want more than "just four walls standing" by the time your doctor gets to you. Consider just one possible complication of poorly managed diabetes. It is called "proliferative retinopathy" and leads to blindness.

In a recent study of the histories of 847 persons who developed this complication, Dr. Howard F. Root and associates of Boston found that none of these patients had had good control of their diabetes through diet and insulin since the onset of their disease.

Yet, there are thousands of diabetics who have survived childhood diabetes for 30 years by good care. The patients in this group escape blindness because of early diagnosis and continuous treatment and control of the condition.

Many people tend to minimize diabetes simply because "it doesn't hurt." I wish, in the beginning, it would "jolt them a few times"; for example, like the warning pain in acute appendicitis. Then they'd take good care. If they did, there would be less likelihood of coming down with early arteriosclerosis, high blood pressure, coronary disease, and dangerous infections. Does all this change your mind, Mrs. H. H.?

HIATAL HERNIA

"I am interested in hiatal hernia," writes Mrs. J. P., of Oregon. "Mine was discovered during a routine yearly examination. My doctor told me to forget about it because I have no symptoms. Can you tell us something about this condition?"

ANSWER: Only during the past few years has this type of hernia become familiar to most doctors. I am sure it was overlooked in many people who had digestive symptoms years ago.

We looked for ulcer, gall bladder disease, etc., and not finding anything definite, we would say, "It's nothing to worry about." But the patient would keep on suffering. I wonder how many we falsely labeled as hypochondriacs.

What is a hiatal hernia? Well, it's a pouchlike herniation of the stomach or intestines (or both) into the chest. Ordinarily, there is a "tight fit" at the point where the esophagus comes through the diaphragm from the chest into the abdominal cavity. If it doesn't fit like a glove anymore, there's room for the abdominal contents to "slide up" into the chest.

Many people have this condition but go through life symptomless. You are probably one of these, Mrs. J. P. Therefore, I agree with your doctor: put it out of your mind.

But there are those who are not so fortunate. They have heartburn and suffer from "gas." Almost 50 per cent have bleeding at some time or other. Two-thirds have pain. Some have actual obstruction to the passage of food.

Treatment choice will depend upon symptoms and doctors. I have seen many patients improve just by losing weight if they were obese. Others got well simply by not overeating, not lying flat after a meal, and by taking sedatives and bowel relaxants.

Of course, there is the group which doesn't respond to medical treatment. Sometimes the choice is a phrenic nerve operation to mobilize the diaphragm. Most usually, the surgeon repairs the hernia itself.

I tell patients not to rush into operation. However, if operation is indicated, they can look forward to feeling better.

Lacks Contacts

Oklahoma Governor Says He Can Even Talk To Postmasters

FAULTY BALLOT — Sen. Robert S. Kerr, Dem.-Okla., says the only contact he had with the Federal Government when he was a boy was through the local postmaster. But now, he complains, he can't even do that since most of the postmasters have been appointed by the Republican administration. And this reminds him of the story of the fellow who, after a political candidate ended a harangue, got up and said, "I would not vote for you if you were St. Peter himself." The candidate replied, "Of course you would not. You would not live in the precinct where you could."

POLITICAL LOW BLOW — A predicted knock-down, drag out fight didn't develop when the Democratic National Committee met here last week but there were moments when it looked like the fuses might be lit. On one of these occasions Committeeman Jerry Carter of Florida was able to break up a dispute before it got out of hand. He told his colleagues, "We'd better stop this bickering and close ranks. You see how those Republicans brought Nikita Khrushchev over here to revitalize their party. That's the lowest political trick ever pulled so let's be on our guard."

THE KIDS KNOW BETTER — Sen. Andrew F. Schoppel, Rep.-Kans., thought he ought to explain why he injected the name of television hero Matt Dillon in a Senate speech. "What family man in this august body is going to rise up and say there was no Matt Dillon and then go home and face his children?" Schoppel asked. "My friends, an utterance like that would be equivalent to saying, 'No, Virginia; there is no Santa Claus.' As long as there is a State of Kansas there will always be a Wyatt Earp and a Wild Bill Hickok. And as long as there is television there will always be a Matt Dillon."

FINALLY, IT ENDS — It was the longest Congressional session in eight years and a lot of lawmakers grumbled about lost summer vacations. The first session of the 86th Congress started Jan. 7 and ran for 251 days. During the Korean war year of 1951 Congress remained in session 291 days. But the all-time record was set by the 76th Congress. It lasted 366 days, from Jan. 3, 1940 to Jan. 3, 1941, quitting just in time for a new Congress to convene the same day.

TURN THE OTHER CHEEK — To look at crusty old Clarence Cannon, the veteran Missouri Congressman, you would not think he has a trace of humor in his system. But every once in a while Cannon will come out with a witty statement. Once, when a colleague accused him of being two-faced, Cannon replied dryly, "If such were the case I surely would not be wearing this one."

BUREAUCRACY AND SECURITY — Security men looking after the safety of Russian Premier Khrushchev left no stones unturned but some of their efforts seemed hardly worth it. Three days after the Red boss' arrival a small announcement, in fine print, appeared in the Federal Register. It was not likely that many concerned would read it and take heed. The Federal Aviation Agency warned that no pilot should fly lower than 3,000 feet or closer than one mile on either side of any motorcade carrying Khrushchev.

Hazing Goes Astray

People throughout the nation were shocked recently at the hazing death of a student fraternity pledge at a college in Los Angeles. It was an inexcusable, revolting death. Those who were to be his brothers were culpable both before and after the fact.

As a part of his "initiation," the student was required to try to swallow a piece of raw liver a half-inch thick and four inches long. Once the liver was in his throat, he could neither get it up or down. With his throat filled, he choked to death.

An ambulance was called and the ambulance attendants were ready to attempt resuscitation but not one of the members of the fraternity who had ordered the liver-swallowing stunt would tell the attendants that the piece of liver was stuck in the youth's throat. If they had done so, it might have been possible to save his life.

Our civilization has gone far in recent years in abolishing the deadly aspects of Hell Week hazing on college campuses and has made considerable progress in eliminating hazing in general but it has not progressed far enough.

A man can still die — choking senselessly in an infantile game.

This death was inexcusable, avoidable, primitive and pointless.

Personal attacks and attacks of indignity upon the person of our college and high school students have no proper place in our campus social system.

This is especially true of students who do not join fraternities and who attend school for the purpose of learning. Yet the custom of heaping indignities upon these students and of forcing them to do menial tasks for upper classmen still persists both in our colleges and high schools.

If a freshman student in either high school or college is willing to be the victim of pranks and indignities and to do menial jobs for the students in higher grades it may be permissible, although it is doubtful if this does much toward up-

Southern Ups And Downs

Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi has spoken out with words many in the south have thought but too seldom uttered in public. He told an Atlanta service club audience the south had no reason to feel ashamed of its efforts and the people should stop playing the "poor folks" role.

The influence of the northern self-righteousness following the Civil War bit deeply into southern pride as well as wealth. Gov. Coleman told his audience some of the reasons behind this. He pointed to figures which showed Mississippi to be the fifth wealthiest state in the nation in 1860.

By 1880, the Civil War's destruction and "reconstruction" pulled the state to the bottom of the nation in per capita wealth. Gov. Coleman traced the ups and downs of Mississippi's recovery to a position around 60 per cent of the national average in income at the present time. He predicted his state's income would equal the national per capita average within a few years.

The comeback — even if it required nearly 80 years — is something for which every southerner may take pride. For the story of Mississippi is the story of every southern state. The war aim of the north was the destruction of the south's ability to produce wealth. The freeing of the slaves, while it also pleased the idealists of the northern cause, further serviced the destructive intentions by dumping a great number of ex-slaves on the states to educate.

As Gov. Coleman put it, "South-

holding either the morale or the dignity of the school. If he is not willing, he certainly deserves the protection of the school authorities, just as a citizen who does not want to be molested is entitled to protection by peace officers.

There are those who will argue that a few deaths occur no matter what a person may do and that the few deaths which occur from hazing usually have some sort of freak angle attached to them. This may be true but the deaths do call some attention to the forms of so-called "fun" which sorority and fraternity pledges and some students who want nothing more than to attend to their studies must endure.

School officials usually take the position that acts performed by fraternity pledges are matters of personal privilege and choice and that there is no reason for them to interfere. Yet many schools and many parents object to the fraternities for a number of reasons, one of which is the grotesque forms of hazing which many of them use. From time to time, petitions request that fraternities be abolished and a good many schools have abolished them.

In the Los Angeles case the students who participated in the hazing were expelled and the fraternity was suspended. Thus, it is clear that school officials have authority to act even in the fraternities, where membership is by invitation and is voluntary.

"People kill sometimes," a disturbed television actor said recently, and it is all too true. Sometimes we forget how many ways we snuff out lives. There are unavoidable accidents, temper tantrums which result in berserk outbreaks and accidents which are easily avoidable.

The Los Angeles student is dead and his would-be brothers are accused of interfering with an ambulance driver's attempt to save their pledge's life.

It is written off as another useless death.

erners had to drag these people along with them."

By way of comparison, the West German economy has made a fantastic comeback during the years following World War II. But West Germany missed out on "reconstruction." Also, the human burden which Russia deliberately pushed out of eastern Europe onto the western zones of Germany was less difficult to train for industrial work and self-sustaining positions than were the freed slaves of the south.

Considering these all important factors with which the south had to cope — "reconstruction" which tore down, and the utterly dependent "freed" slaves — recovery even to 60 per cent of the national average income over an 80-year period is an excellent accomplishment.

The north also is beginning to realize just what the south was given to carry out. With populations in cities as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Washington, D. C., now showing large elements of peoples not well adapted to what may be considered normal U. S. manners and morals, these cities are turning to the south for leadership.

The "poor folks" role described by Gov. Coleman — that of calling for federal aid when there is no good reason — is becoming more and more out of place.

In more ways than one, the north is joining a south which it could not permanently lick.

The Ride Seems To Be Getting Rougher

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Governor Nelson Rockefeller May Be Willing To Test Strength Later But No' Now

The Khrushchev interlude cannot affect the presidential election which is now in the making. The only candidate for the Republican nomination, at the moment, is the Vice President, Richard Nixon. Testing his strength, like a boy about to go for a swim, putting his feet in the water to see how it feels, is Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York. He apparently wants to be President but does not want to risk defeat either for the nomination or at the election. There are no sure things in American politics and timid souls do not last long in this game.

It is unusual that no other possibilities present themselves among the Republicans and truth to tell, there do not seem to be any others. Maybe, someone will emerge between now and the summer of 1960, but it is not likely. Time's a-passing and the Vice President, Richard Nixon, has been doing well in establishing in the public mind the fact that if he had to take the presidency, he could handle the job. That is an extraordinarily good start for a candidate.

The Democrats started with a galaxy of candidates but apparently they are gradually eliminating themselves. The Democrats also have candidates for Vice President and secretary of state which is a most unusual procedure.

Adlai Stevenson, already twice defeated, was building a candidacy. Much depended upon what happened in the New York City Democratic primaries, which Carmine DeSapio won, although not as readily as he might have liked. The fact is that the reformers, led by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Herbert Lehman and Thomas Finletter, spent considerable money and energy attempting to defeat Carmine DeSapio, which they failed to do. Their hope now is that they can use the argument that he did not win as magnificently as he might have. That, of course, is meaningless. Carmine is in; Mrs. Roosevelt is out. And that means that at the 1960 Democratic convention, an anti-Stevenson delegation will come from New York.

Harry Truman comes to New York often to see his daughter and her children. He takes a walk each morning, followed by reporters who retell his words of wisdom. It is to be noted that Harry Truman is no mean personality in this huge city and that many Democrats listen to him. It is said among Democrats that Harry Truman is not favorably disposed toward Adlai Stevenson but that he prefers Stuart Symington, the senator from Missouri. It figures.

One of the problems that bother the Democrats is religion. Since Senator John Kennedy has been a candidate for the presidency, the Democrats have been forced to recognize that in the big Northern cities many of the most ardent Democrats are Roman Catholics and that they object to the position that no Catholic can ever be President of the United States. They regard it as discriminatory without constitutional foundation. Therefore, they are angling for a Roman Catholic Vice President.

It is very doubtful that Senator Kennedy would accept the nomination for the vice presidency, but then again he might and that would settle a very touchy situation. Governor Pat Brown of California and Mayor Robert Wagner of New York City are prospective Democratic candidates for the vice presidency. Both are Roman Catholics. Neither has had any special training for the presidency, but both are adept in politics.

Senator Lyndon Johnson is not to be discounted among the Democratic candidates. He is extremely popular in his own party, has the respect of Republicans, and is likely to be antagonistic to the ADA. These Americans for Democratic Action seem to have outworn their welcome in the Democratic Party. Mrs. Roosevelt's defeat in the New York City primaries has done the ADA no good. For one thing, it has disclosed that where her following is large, the voters are likely to be independent rather than partisan. This may be a virtue but from the standpoint of practical politics, it means that the Democrats cannot figure that they will stay put, as the old-time club house boys always did, whether they were bought or not.

It is too bad that Khrushchev did not come in the autumn of 1960 rather than now. It might be useful for him to see how an election is worked here; he could learn how to get himself elected without purges.

Atomic Chiefs Discuss Visits

Referring to Friday's meeting, the statement continued:

"Both Prof. Emelyanov and Chairman McCone pointed out that they could not recount their exploratory discussions in detail before reporting them to their principals (Eisenhower and Khrushchev)."

It was believed the talks were confined to such topics as research and power reactors, high energy physics, and development of materials for power reactors. The much debated question of a ban on nuclear weapons testing is outside Emelyanov's responsibilities.

It's also possible that one of the problems they may have discussed is how to guarantee that fissionable material produced by reactors goes only into peaceful projects and not into weapons production.

The U.S. position has been that some sort of audit of the reactor production should be set up, perhaps by the International Atomic Energy Agency established in Vienna two years ago.

But the Soviets have been cool to this concept. They contend any such audit should be made by the individual countries.

Alabama Solons See Citizens Group In Action

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Alabama Legislature saw today how the Citizens Councils are seeking to sell the Southern viewpoint on racial and states rights matters to the nation.

Lawmakers met in joint session to view one of the films in the "Citizens Council Forum" television series. The film was an interview of Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga) who called for Southern unity and praised the Council's information program.

The series is produced by the Councils in Washington, D.C., and aired by almost 300 radio and television stations from Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico, Council Administrator W. J. Simmons of Jackson, Miss., told the legislators.

a sterile male can't reproduce. Since a female mates only once, the sterilization process ultimately wipes out the flies.

After a few months of such goings-on in Florida, the number of cattle infested with screwworm flies dropped from many thousands a week to 15.

Scientists are looking toward the Mediterranean fruit fly in Hawaii and other Pacific Islands as their next victims. Other potential candidates are the oriental fruit fly, the white pine weevil, the melon fly, and the tsetse fly, carrier of sleeping sickness.

At the same time, they hailed the 17 executed Iraqis, including several high army officers, as "heroes of the July revolution," a reference to the 1958 revolt in which the Iraqi monarchy was wiped out and Kassem took power.

The mass protest took place as other Middle Eastern states, including the United Arab Republic and Jordan, stepped up their radio and press attacks on Kassem for allowing his government to fall under Communist influence.

Technical difficulties reportedly caused the postponement. No new attempt was set.

In Washington, the Air Force said there was no intent to hit the satellite with the missile in the planned shoot. The statement said the Air Force wanted to improve its data on the flight trajectory of missiles.

By measuring the distance between the two as they passed, information on the missiles curving flight could have been obtained, it said.

A Nike-Cajun weather research rocket boosted the camera nose cone aloft at 8:17 a.m. in an attempt to photograph Hurricane Gracie. The hurricane then was centered about 340 miles east of the Cape.

But the Navy reported the rocket veered slightly off course and dropped the cone outside the expected impact area.

A parachute was to ease the cone into the Atlantic some 40 miles offshore about six minutes after launch. But a Navy destroyer and a plane failed to find it in a five-hour search of the wind-tossed ocean. The searchers reportedly failed to pick up signals from a radio beacon in the cone.

The camera was designed to take several still pictures of Gracie at altitudes ranging from 10 to 85 miles. The pictures were Lovett was turned over to city detective Henry Chennault who was off duty at the time but happened to be in the store. He kept the Negro prisoner until other police officers arrived on the scene and took charge.

There were more than 100 persons in the store at the time the fleeing man was captured, according to Harold Lowe, manager.

Lovett told police he came here about a week ago and claimed he had no previous criminal record.

Atomic Chiefs Discuss Visits

(Continued From Page One) first meeting of McCone and Emelyanov last week. Referring to Friday's meeting, the statement continued: "Both Prof. Emelyanov and Chairman McCone pointed out that they could not recount their exploratory discussions in detail before reporting them to their principals (Eisenhower and Khrushchev)."

It was believed the talks were confined to such topics as research and power reactors, high energy physics, and development of materials for power reactors. The much debated question of a ban on nuclear weapons testing is outside Emelyanov's responsibilities. It's also possible that one of the problems they may have discussed is how to guarantee that fissionable material produced by reactors goes only into peaceful projects and not into weapons production. The U.S. position has been that some sort of audit of the reactor production should be set up, perhaps by the International Atomic Energy Agency established in Vienna two years ago. But the Soviets have been cool to this concept. They contend any such audit should be made by the individual countries.

Laboratory Test May Help Solve Negro's Death

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Police say laboratory tests now under way may enable them to determine whether a Negro rape suspect was murdered or committed suicide. The body of David McClelland Jr., 26, a former convict was found in the Missouri River east of Kansas City, Mo., last Saturday. There were no marks of violence on the body.

Tests are being made to determine whether he was poisoned. McClelland had been identified as one of four Negroes who raped and beat an 18-year-old girl the night of Sept. 9. Police Chief John Throff said he believed the Negro either committed suicide or was slain by the other three men involved in the crime.

Police had no leads on the other three and wanted to capture McClelland to determine their identities. Throff said he believed McClelland might have been doped or intoxicated and thrown into the river to prevent fingerprints. The body was identified by fingerprints.

McClelland was sought in the rape case after his father told police he had been acting queerly and he suspected the son might have been implicated in the attack. The victim had identified his photograph. The girl's name has been withheld.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

DEATH IN THE FAMILY

The loss of a spouse, parent, or child is a shock the majority of bereaved are able to accept. Those who fail to adjust bear their sadness like a cross and in time become so firmly attached to the past they cannot cope with the future.

Dr. Robert L. Faucett has done considerable research in this field and found the immediate reaction to a death in the family varies considerably. Seventy per cent are stunned and bewildered. Approximately 12 to 25 per cent remain calm. An equal number manifest inappropriate responses, including confusion, anger, paralyzing anxiety, or hysterical crying. This immediate impact is brief and many pull themselves together within an hour or two.

The period of recoil follows: The individual becomes aware of what has happened and the future implications. This is the time for the new widow to talk and ventilate her feelings about the dead.

She needs to cry and talk of the past, including unpleasant as well as pleasant aspects. This attitude is not always accepted in our society; we are expected to keep a stiff upper lip. But it is better to release the safety valve at this time than to let steam accumulate that may blow up at a later date.

It is normal to be disturbed at this time, develop irrational attitudes, feelings of guilt, hostile and negative reactions, and to be preoccupied with the image of the deceased. There is no advantage in trying to be any different or to run away from it all.

The most important factor in adjusting is to develop the feeling that this phase is a bridge that must be crossed to reach reality. This period is of variable length and may last from 7 to 10 days. Thereafter, the bereaved must utilize the social forces to reconstruct a new way of living. Medical care may be needed for dependent, self-pitying individuals who cannot recover from the loss.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, addressed envelope accompanies request.

ARE POTATOES FATTENING?

Mrs. G. writes: Are potatoes allowed on a reducing diet?

REPLY: Yes. An average sized potato contains 85 to 100 calories and this vegetable provides many nutritive substances. Much depends on the cooking method and what is put on them. French fried, hashed brown, and American pan fried potatoes are richer than baked or boiled, because of the added fat. On the other hand, most persons add butter, sour cream sauce, chopped bacon, or gravy to baked boiled or mashed potatoes and this is where the calories mount up.

DIGESTION TIME

C. T. writes: How long does it take for a meal to pass through the intestinal tract?

REPLY: Thirty to 40 hours, depending upon the type of food and the motility of the stomach and intestines.

GALLSTONE HARBORER

R. B. writes: How does a person with gallstones feel?

REPLY: Normal, most of the time. Indigestion and pain are the most common symptoms. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on gallstones.

Rainach Hits At Noe Over Rights Issues

Former Gov. James A. Noe may have been responsible for a 1957 federal investigation of alleged Civil Rights violations in several North Louisiana parishes, Sen. W. M. Rainach charged yesterday.

Rainach, a candidate for governor, trained his segregationist guns on three other gubernatorial candidates while stumping the area yesterday, giving Noe a double blast.

"I have been told that Jimmy Noe was one man responsible for the Civil Rights investigation," he told a small gathering of listeners on the courthouse square at Bastrop.

Running openly with segregation as his main platform plank, Rainach said he was one of the first men in Louisiana to begin fighting the federal government against integration.

"Where was Jimmy Noe when all this happened?" Rainach asked.

Then he turned to the 1956 voter clean-up issue in Ouachita Parish and said:

"You people in Bastrop put an ad in the Monroe Morning World voicing your disapproval when Jimmy Noe tried to block the voter clean-up down there in Ouachita Parish."

"I have clippings showing where Jimmy Noe went down to the courthouse and almost had a fight with an assistant attorney general."

He charged, "When the fine people of Ouachita Parish started to clean up their voter rolls, who put up a squawk? Jimmy Noe did. Who was knocked off the rolls himself? Jimmy Noe was. For three or four months."

Finally, Rainach said, "If Jimmy Noe is elected governor, and that won't happen because the people don't want Earl Long's candidate, Louisiana will be opening the gates of the Reconstruction Days. We'll have carpetbagger, scaly, way rule in Louisiana again."

CHARGED
Rainach then turned on candidate Jimmie Davis, said he called Davis to help in the fight for segregation. "He said I'd better stay out of it," Rainach charged.

About Morrison, Rainach said, "He had the audacity to go on television down there at Monroe and say he had no integration in New Orleans. They've integrated every public park, swimming pool, zoo, tennis court in New Orleans."

Rainach started in Farmerville, stopped off in Sterling and spoke again in Bastrop, before going on to Mer Rouge and winding up at Rayville.

He was accompanied by candidates for lieutenant governor, Cy Courtney of New Orleans, and comptroller, Joe D. Waggoner of Plain Dealing.

Rep. John Garrett, the Haynesville solon acting as campaign director, introduced the speakers.

Rainach's schedule today is Columbia, 10 a.m.; Olla, 11:30 a.m.; Tullis, 1:30 p.m.; Jena, 3:30 p.m.; Pollock, 5 p.m. and an Alexandria television appearance, 10:05 to 10:15 p.m.

Young Woman Holds Up Store At Gunpoint

NEW YORK (AP)—A sun-tanning young woman wearing a summer print dress held up a jewelry store Friday at 42nd St. and Fifth Ave., one of the world's busiest intersections.

She escaped with $75 in cash and two women's watches with a value of $34.

Lunchtime crowds in the area were unaware of what was going on.

The woman entered the Truval Jewelry Store shortly after noon, browsed about as though to buy a watch, then drew a black revolver from her handbag and told Tilly Silver, lone employee in the shop, that "This is a stickup."

The woman took $75 from the cash register and the two watches and strode out into the crowds.

THELMA EATON

Woman Held In Jail Here, Posed As Man

"I am a man!" cried the woman.

Thelma Eaton alias Joe C. Wilson alias Mary L. Williams, stoutly proclaiming that she was a male, turned to the woman at her side and continued, "We're married."

All outward appearances do indicate that the Eaton woman, of Angleton, Tex., somber-faced and rugged, is a man. She has been working here as a service station attendant.

State police, reporting the above conversation, said the Eaton woman and Cynthia Ann Kelly, alias Ann Williams, of Dallas, Tex., were picked up earlier this week.

CHARGED
The Eaton woman gave her name as "Joe C. Wilson." She was charged by State Police with having no driver's license and subsequently fined $25 and 10 days in jail in a district court session.

The masquerade did not come to light until yesterday when Houston, Tex., authorities notified local officials to be on the lookout for a woman posing as a man.

Both the Eaton woman and the Kelly woman are wanted in connection with forgery charges in Houston.

Local authorities and Houston officials were unable to report whether or not the two women have actually been married. State Police said the two claimed they were married in Dallas, Tex.

Both women have waived extradition proceedings and will be returned to Houston to face charges, officials said.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The French delegation left the General Assembly temporarily today in protest against remarks made by a Saudi Arabian delegate regarding the Algerian problem.

Brown Ribbed By Colleagues Over Illness

BASTROP (Special)—Rep. J. Marshall Brown is hospitalized in Bastrop, but he's not too sick to appreciate a touch of sardonic humor.

Brown, a candidate for governor, laughed heartily late yesterday while colleagues ribbed him about the affect his death would have on Louisiana politics.

Quipped Frank Kees, Brown's candidate for lieutenant governor, "Ole Earl would be crying the loudest, claiming you were one of his best friends."

"They'd all be in line to be pallbearers," added Kees.

"You can die now and go out in a blaze of glory," chimed in publicist Jerry Taitt.

NOT WORRIED
Actually, Brown said he wasn't worried about his condition, although at the moment he doesn't know exactly what his trouble is.

"I keep having sharp pains in my stomach," he explained.

Brown, 38-year-old New Orleans man, was hospitalized in Garnier Clinic Thursday afternoon after sustaining pains in his stomach en route to Monroe.

Doctors, now running tests on Brown, said he would be hospitalized for three or four days. Brown suffered a similar attack last Sunday night while appearing on television in Lafayette.

"I've been going pretty hard these past few months," Brown said. "All I can say at this time is that I'll be out of the hospital in a few days and back on the campaign trail."

Strong Demands Sends Hog Price Back To Top

CHICAGO (AP)—A good weekend demand strengthened butcher hog prices as much as 25 cents a hundredweight Friday. The top price went back to $14.25 where it had been all week until Thursday.

The supply of 5,500 head cleared early. It brought the total for the week to 40,000, the same as last week.

The $14.25 peak went for two lots, one grading mixed No. 1 and 2 and weighing 220 lbs., the other grading strictly No. 2 and weighing 210 lbs.

Other offerings in the 190-230 lb range cleared at $13.65-14.00 and heavier weights upward from $12.00. Sows were $10.25-13.00 and steady.

Slaughter steer and heifer sales were too meager to test the market and no prices were reported. The supply of about 1,200 steers and a few lots of heifers that were carried over from Thursday's market still were unsold.

Vealers were steady, selling at $26.00-32.00 for standard to good grades. Bulls were steady to 30 cents lower and went at $19.50-22.50 for utility and commercial kinds.

The sheep market was steady on the few sales reported. Utility to choice spring slaughter lambs brought $13.00-20.50, ewes $4.00-5.00.

Steel Shortage Slows Operation Of Ruston Plant

RUSTON (Special)—Commenting on the effects of the steel strike on Lincoln Enterprises, manager Arthur Colodny said, "We're gradually drying up at the factory here and will use our steel supply up within about two weeks."

Colodny continued, "Workmen have been laid off at a steady rate for some time until only about 50 now remain."

Before the strike the company had begun hiring men in anticipation of reaching peak capacity. Last season they employed more than 400 men.

Orders for steel were placed in April, Colodny said, but the mills were unable to make delivery before they were closed down.

Colodny hoped the plant will be among the first to receive metal after the strike is over, but he did not expect a shipment until at least two months after the steel mills go back into production.

Meanwhile, a skeleton crew will be maintained to carry on maintenance and continue the tool and die operations so that full production can get underway without delay as soon as steel is available.

Leaders See Talks Here As Keynote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev today expressed belief, and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter stated hope, that the Soviet Premier's visit and talks here will soften the freeze of the cold war.

Khrushchev made his comment to reporters shortly before he set out for a luncheon given by Herter in his honor. The affair was held only hours before the start of Khrushchev's talks with President Eisenhower on a Maryland mountain top.

Khrushchev was interviewed briefly at the entrance to the Soviet Embassy.

"We will know more after the discussions with the President," the visiting Communist chief said.

As for picking out the outstanding difficulty that ought to be settled, Khrushchev said with a chuckle: "It would be better to ask that question of your President."

Khrushchev said he thinks tensions between the two countries will be lessened to some extent as a result of his visit.

The comment came on the heels of morning strategy sessions in which Khrushchev and Eisenhower, a block apart, went over last-minute plans for the conferences which will last into Sunday at the presidential retreat, Camp David.

Stated his hope that the weekend talks will create greater U.S.-Soviet understanding and serve the cause of world peace.

Referring to the hectic schedule Khrushchev has followed since his arrival in the United States, Herter told his guest: "We admire your stamina."

"In this short period you have visited some of our major cities and met a number of local government officials and private citizens," Herter went on. "You have experienced differing situations just as persons in political life meet them daily throughout this country."

"We want you to see us as we are. The airing of differences in our free society is normal and actually promotes better understanding."

Red Newspaper Lauds Students For Reception

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Communist Party youth newspaper Friday cheered students at Iowa State College for giving a rousing welcome to Nikita Khrushchev in the face of "warnings" from their professors.

The paper Komsomolskaya Pravda said the Soviet premier's visit to the school at Ames, Iowa, "produced great impressions upon the minds of American students, despite the warnings" of professors.

It said the students applauded Khrushchev although the faculty did not show much "enthusiasm" for his visit.

It told its Russian audience that the stop at Ames was the premier's first contact with the youth of America on his tour.

The college men and women "speak with admiration about the wisdom of Khrushchev and his tireless energy," Komsomolskaya Pravda said.

"They saw the leader of the new world and new way of thinking."

"The personal charm of Khrushchev, his manner of speaking which is very simple and understandable, his thoughts showing deep knowledge of life and a realistic approach to it—all that can but grasp the imagination of millions of Americans," the paper concluded.

Rainach Hits At Noe Over Rights Issues

Former Gov. James A. Noe may have been responsible for a 1957 federal investigation of alleged Civil Rights violations in several North Louisiana parishes, Sen. W. M. Rainach charged yesterday.

Rainach, a candidate for governor, trained his segregationist guns on three other gubernatorial candidates while stumping the area yesterday, giving Noe a double blast.

"I have been told that Jimmy Noe was one man responsible for the Civil Rights investigation," he told a small gathering of listeners on the courthouse square at Bastrop.

Running openly with segregation as his main platform plank, Rainach said he was one of the first men in Louisiana to begin fighting the federal government against integration.

"Where was Jimmy Noe when all this happened?" Rainach asked.

Then he turned to the 1956 voter clean-up issue in Ouachita Parish and said:

"You people in Bastrop put an ad in the Monroe Morning World voicing your disapproval when Jimmy Noe tried to block the voter clean-up down there in Ouachita Parish."

"I have clippings showing where Jimmy Noe went down to the courthouse and almost had a fight with an assistant attorney general."

He charged, "When the fine people of Ouachita Parish started to clean up their voter rolls, who put up a squawk? Jimmy Noe did. Who was knocked off the rolls himself? Jimmy Noe was. For three or four months."

Finally, Rainach said, "If Jimmy Noe is elected governor, and that won't happen because the people don't want Earl Long's candidate, Louisiana will be opening the gates of the Reconstruction Days. We'll have carpetbagger, scaly-way rule in Louisiana again."

CHARGED

Rainach then turned on candidate Jimmie Davis, said he called Davis to help in the fight for segregation. "He said I'd better stay out of it," Rainach charged.

About Morrison, Rainach said, "He had the audacity to go on television down there at Monroe and say he had no integration in New Orleans. They've integrated every public park, swimming pool, zoo, tennis court in New Orleans."

Rainach started in Farmerville, stopped off in Sterling and spoke again in Bastrop, before going on to Mer Rouge and winding up at Rayville.

He was accompanied by candidates for lieutenant governor, Cy Courtney of New Orleans, and comptroller, Joe D. Waggoner of Plain Dealing.

Rep. John Garrett, the Haynesville solon acting as campaign director, introduced the speakers.

Rainach's schedule today is Columbia, 10 a.m.; Olla, 11:30 a.m.; Jullos, 1:30 p.m.; Jena, 3:30 p.m.; Pollock, 5 p.m. and an Alexandria television appearance, 10:05 to 10:15 p.m.

Young Woman Holds Up Store At Gunpoint

NEW YORK (AP)—A gun-toting young woman wearing a summer print dress held up a jewelry store Friday at 42nd St. and Fifth Ave., one of the world's busiest intersections.

She escaped with $75 in cash and two women's watches with a value of $34.

Lunchtime crowds in the area were unaware of what was going on.

The woman entered the Truvel Jewelry Store shortly after noon, browsed about as though to buy a watch, then drew a black revolver from her handbag and told Tilly Silver, lone employee in the shop, that "This is a stickup."

The woman took $75 from the cash register and the two watches and strode out into the crowds.

Both the Eaton woman and the Kelly woman are wanted in connection with forgery charges in Houston.

Local authorities and Houston officials were unable to report whether or not the two women have actually been married. State Police said the two claimed they were married in Dallas, Tex.

Both women have waived extradition proceedings and will be returned to Houston to face charges, officials said.

Woman Held In Jail Here, Posed As Man

"I am a man!" cried the woman.

Thelma Eaton alias Joe C. Wilson alias Mary L. Williams, stoutly proclaiming that she was a male, turned to the woman at her side and continued, "We're married."

All outward appearances do indicate that the Eaton woman, of Angleton, Tex., somber-faced and rugged, is a man. She has been working here as a service station attendant.

State police, reporting the above conversation, said the Eaton woman and Cynthia Ann Kelly, alias Ann Williams, of Dallas, Tex., were picked up earlier this week.

CHARGED

The Eaton woman gave her name as "Joe C. Wilson." She was charged by State Police with having no driver's license and subsequently fined $25 and 10 days in jail in a district court session.

The masquerade did not come to light until yesterday when Houston, Tex., authorities notified local officials to be on the lookout for a woman posing as a man.

Both the Eaton woman and the Kelly woman are wanted in connection with forgery charges in Houston.

Local authorities and Houston officials were unable to report whether or not the two women have actually been married. State Police said the two claimed they were married in Dallas, Tex.

Brown Ribbed By Colleagues Over Illness

BASTROP (Special)—Rep. J. Marshall Brown is hospitalized in Bastrop, but he's not too sick to appreciate a touch of sardonic humor.

Brown, a candidate for governor, laughed heartily late yesterday while colleagues ribbed him about the affect his death would have on Louisiana politics.

Quipped Frank Kees, Brown's candidate for lieutenant governor, "Ole Earl would be crying the loudest, claiming you were one of his best friends."

"They'd all be in line to be pallbearers," added Kees.

"You can die now and go out in a blaze of glory," chimed in publicist Jerry Taft.

NOT WORRIED

Actually, Brown said he wasn't worried about his condition, although at the moment he doesn't know exactly what his trouble is.

"I keep having sharp pains in my stomach," he explained.

Brown, 38-year-old New Orleans man, was hospitalized in Garnier Clinic Thursday afternoon after sustaining pains in his stomach en route to Monroe.

Doctors, now running tests on Brown, said he would be hospitalized for three or four days. Brown suffered a similar attack last Sunday night while appearing on television in Lafayette.

"I've been going pretty hard these past few months," Brown said. "All I can say at this time is that I'll be out of the hospital in a few days and back on the campaign trail."

Strong Demands Sends Hog Price Back To Top

CHICAGO (AP)—A good week-end demand strengthened butcher hog prices as much as 25 cents a hundredweight Friday. The top price went back to $14.25 where it had been all week until Thursday.

The supply of 5,500 head cleared early. It brought the total for the week to 40,000, the same as last week.

The $14.25 peak went for two lots, one grading mixed No. 1 and 2 and weighing 220 lbs., the other grading strictly No. 2 and weighing 210 lbs.

Other offerings in the 190-220 lb range cleared at $13.65-14.00 and heavier weights upward from $12.00. Sows were $10.25-13.00 and steady.

Slaughter steer and heifer sales were too meager to test the market and no prices were reported. The supply of about 1,200 steers and a few lots of heifers that were carried over from Thursday's market still were unsold.

Vealers were steady, selling at $26.00-32.00 for standard to good grades. Bulls were steady to 30 cents lower and went at $19.50-22.50 for utility and commercial kinds.

The sheep market was steady on the few sales reported. Utility to choice spring slaughter lambs brought $15.00-20.50, ewes $4.00-5.00.

Steel Shortage Slows Operation Of Ruston Plant

RUSTON (Special)—Commenting on the effects of the steel strike on Lincoln Enterprises, manager Arthur Colodny said, "We're gradually drying up at the factory here and will use our steel supply up within about two weeks."

Colodny continued, "Workmen have been laid off at a steady rate for some time until only about 30 now remain."

Before the strike the company had begun hiring men in anticipation of reaching peak capacity. Last season they employed more than 400 men.

Orders for steel were placed in April, Colodny said, but the mills were unable to make delivery before they were closed down.

Colodny hoped the plant will be among the first to receive metal after the strike is over, but he did not expect a shipment until at least two months after the steel mills go back into production.

Meanwhile, a skeleton crew will be maintained to carry on maintenance and continue the tool and die operations so that full production can get underway without delay as soon as steel is available.

French Group Leaves Meeting Of Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The French delegation left the General Assembly temporarily today in protest against remarks made by a Saudi Arabian delegate regarding the Algerian problem.

Amhad Shukairy, head of the Saudi Arabian delegation, had called President Charles de Gaulle's offer of self-determination for Algeria a fraud and "chaos—pure and simple."

Leaders See Talks Here As Keynote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev today expressed belief, and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter stated hope, that the Soviet Premier's visit and talks here will soften the freeze of the cold war.

Khrushchev made his comment to reporters shortly before he set out for a luncheon given by Herter in his honor. The affair was held only hours before the start of Khrushchev's talks with President Eisenhower on a Maryland mountain top.

Khrushchev was interviewed briefly at the entrance to the Soviet Embassy.

"We will know more after the discussions with the President," the visiting Communist chief said.

As for picking out the outstanding difficulty that ought to be settled, Khrushchev said with a chuckle: "It would be better to ask that question of your President."

Khrushchev said he thinks tensions between the two countries will be lessened to some extent as a result of his visit.

The comment came on the heels of morning strategy sessions in which Khrushchev and Eisenhower, a block apart, went over last-minute plans for the conferences which will last into Sunday at the presidential retreat, Camp David.

In a luncheon toast, Herter stated his hope that the weekend talks will create greater U.S.-Soviet understanding and serve the cause of world peace.

Referring to the hectic schedule Khrushchev has followed since his arrival in the United States, Herter told his guest: "We admire your stamina."

"In this short period you have visited some of our major cities and met a number of local government officials and private citizens," Herter went on. "You have experienced differing situations just as persons in political life meet them daily throughout this country."

"We want you to see us as we are. The airing of differences in our free society is normal and actually promotes better understanding."

"Beginning this evening you will have opportunities for quiet discussions with President Eisenhower at Camp David."

Farmer Sparks Rebels To 12-0 Decision Over Tigers

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

Will-o-the-wisp Ronnie Farmer, a featherweight magician armed with a bag full of tricks, set up the opening touchdown and scored the other to ignite West Monroe Rebels to a 12-0 victory over the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers Friday night in a battle of winged-T offenses.

One of the smallest men on the field at 145 pounds soaking wet, Farmer made the biggest splash of the night. Working the quarterback option play to perfection, Farmer was the leading ground gainer of the night with 71 yards in 8 cracks at the red-helmeted Tiger line. He found time in between to click on three of six passes for 49 yards.

The Rebs of Cecil Pirkey and the Tigers of Jimmy Gilbert locked up in a stalemate of similar single and double wing thrusts until late in the second period when Farmer set up the clincher.

A J-H punt by Charles Fullerton traveled only 20 yards to the Tigers' 36 for the big Confederate break. Farmer tossed an incomplete aerial and Dwain Johnston, prepping for his game-winning score, picked up five yards.

John Covington, one of many outstanding West Monroe sub backs, took a pitchout and raced 16 yards for a first down on the Tiger 15. John Moses added 2 of his 40 yard personal total of the night to move the ball to the 13. Then Farmer, zig zagged on the option through a host of would-be tacklers before being upended on the one. Johnston crashed over right tackle to send the Rebs into the lead.

Johnston's attempted conversion sailed to the left of the goal posts.

TRIBE HOPES SHATTERED

Last-Place Phils Blast Braves, 6-3

By JACK HAND

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The relaxed, last-place Milwaukee Phils dropped the Milwaukee Braves one full game behind the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers Friday night with a rain-soaked 6-3 victory.

Both the Braves and Dodgers have two games to play. If this defeat buried Milwaukee, the chief ballbearers in the watery wake were Gene Freese, Jack Meyer and Eddie Bouchee.

Freese drove in four of the runs, three of them with a three-run homer off loser Lew Burdette in the third inning. Meyer pitched tremendous ball for 5 2-3 innings in relief of starter Don Cardwell. Bouchee, a chief tormentor of Milwaukee all season long, drove in the other two runs.

The game was held up once for 14 minutes in the fourth inning and was played in a steady rain from the fifth inning on. Perhaps it was the threat of bad weather that held down the crowd to 24,912, about 20,000 short of capacity at County Stadium. Many of them gave up early and sloshed to their cars with rain pattering on their umbrellas.

All night long the score of Los Angeles' 11-inning 5-4 triumph over the Chicago Cubs haunted the home club. It was posted on the daily lighted scoreboard in right field when they came out. And it still was there when they trooped dejectedly to their clubhouse. The Braves won must count on winning their final two games with the Phillies Saturday and Sunday while hoping the Cubs beat the Dodgers at least once to get a tie. San Francisco, tied if they can do no better than tie them, win their remaining three while the Dodgers lose two and the Braves lose one more.

PHILADELPHIA 6, MILWAUKEE 3. (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies won their first game since Sept. 15, 1958, by beating the Milwaukee Braves 6-3 Friday night. The Phillies' victory was the first since they were defeated by the Braves in the first game of the season. The Phillies' victory was the first since they were defeated by the Braves in the first game of the season. Neville Topples Bastrop, 14 To 6

BASTROP, La. (Special) The undefeated Neville High Tigers of Monroe had to fight from behind to shade the Bastrop Rams, 14-6, here last night.

Jerry Hollis, Louisiana's leading triple-A scorer with 42 points going into last night's game, ran his string of touchdowns to eight with a first quarter five-yard end quarter on a plunge from about a yard and half out. Joe Cage booted the point that put the heavily favored Tigers in front 7-6 at the half.

Again it was Becton and Cage building the Neville margin in the third quarter. Becton went around right end to score from the 12, and Cage kicked the point once more.

Penalties cost Bastrop in the second quarter, particularly when a Charles Burks to Hollis pass that covered 15 yards to paydirt was nullified and Bastrop assessed a holding penalty.

Neville edged the Rams in first downs, but Bastrop showed the most yardage gained for the night with 170 net rushing and 68 passing against 160-27 for Neville.

WISNER 13, WATERPROOF 0

WATERPROOF, La. (Special) —The Wisner Bulldogs, a pre-season favorite to rule district 3-B this season, opened their season with a 13-0 victory over the Waterproof Tigers in a league contest here last night.

Sonny Bondurant passed 18 yards to Jerry Ensminger for the first Wisner touchdown in the second quarter. Bondurant rushed the Tiger line for the point that gave the Bulldogs a 7-0 lead at the half.

Kenneth Thornhill scored the final Wisner touchdown on a 23-yard run in the fourth quarter.

WINNFIELD 19, COUSHATTA 0

WINNFIELD, La. (Special) The Winnfield Tigers downed last year's district 1-A champion Coushatta here last night, 19-0, in a razzle dazzle aerial game in which Coushatta could never score.

It was Mike Tinnerello's hefty left arm that notched two of the Tiger touchdowns when he connected to wingman Tommy Wyatt in the first and fourth periods.

The other Tiger TD came with 10:41 left in the fourth period when halfback James Collins plunged over from the one. It was Tinnerello-to-Wyatt again for the PAT.

Winnfield passed 48 yards for the first touchdown and one yard for the second.

But Coushatta quarterback Aldeen Horton stole the air game with a double reverse in the backfield when he tossed deep behind the line to his left half who shot across to the right half who connected with the right end 36 yards down field.

First downs were Winnfield 10, Coushatta 5.

WINNSBORO, 27-7

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) —The Winnsboro Wildcats tamed the LaSalle Tigers to the tune of 27-7, chalking up their third straight win for the season last night.

Winnsboro got off to a scoreless first quarter when Allen Parks, left half, returned a LaSalle punt to the Tigers' 33, setting it up for J. D. Busby, who scampered 28 yards for a touchdown.

A 26-yard pass play tallied another touchdown for Winnsboro. Joe Henry, quarterback, did the throwing; Johnny Fisk, right half, did the catching. Busby ran the extra point.

Alvis Randle, LaSalle fullback, went around right end from his own 26 and sprinted 64 yards for his team's lone touchdown.

Randle also kicked the extra point. In the first play of the second quarter Busby blasted through the center of LaSalle's line on the two yard line into the striped territory. He then tore around right end for the bonus score.

Not satisfied yet by the comfortable margin, Busby went around right end from his own 11 and shot down the rectangle 89 yards for the final touchdown. Johnny Fisk ran the extra point. Here's how the statistics stack up: Winnsboro - 12 first downs, 34 yards rushed, 101 yards passed, tried nine passes, completed six, penalized 75 yards.

LaSalle - six first downs, 73 yards rushed, 30 yards passed, tried four passes, completed three, penalized 30 yards.

FERRIDAY WINS, 25-12

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) —Ferriday struck for two fourth quarter touchdowns in taking a 25-12 victory over winless Jena here last night.

The unbeaten local Bulldogs scored first in the second period when Carl Chapman capped a 70-yard march with a 24-yard trip for a touchdown. Quarterback Billy Clifton passed to fullback Alfred Hamby for the PAT.

Jena rallied in the second when quarterback Earl Peary passed 11 yards to Glen Poole.

Clifton went eight yards to end a 72-yard march for the second Ferriday touchdown in the third quarter. In the fourth, Ray McCollum passed 23 yards to end Doc Long who pulled the ball from a Jena defender's hand and went over for a touchdown.

Ferriday end Zane Boykin blocked a Jena punt on the Jena 28, also in the last period, and guard Mike Price picked up the ball and went the rest of the way for a touchdown.

Gerald Ganey ran 15 yards for the final Jena touchdown in the fourth.

Jerry Poole was outstanding defensively for Ferriday, and Chapman starred on offense.

CROWVILLE IN ROUT

CROWVILLE, La. (Special) —Burnette Savage romped for three touchdowns in leading the Crowville Bulldogs, defending district 3-B champions, to a 41-6 win over the Newelltown Bears Friday night.

Savage ran over two TDs in the first quarter and one in the third. Truman Johnson, Billy Riser, and Kelly Clark counted a touchdown apiece for Crowville. Savage and Johnson added two extra points apiece, and James Peters tallied one.

Buddy Tatum counted Newelltown's lone touchdown.

Coach Oliver Poole's Bulldogs host the Ouachita "B" team of Monroe here next Friday night.

VIDALIA BEATEN

WOODVILLE, Miss. (Special) —Harry Jill bootlegged for six yards and a touchdown as the Woodville Ramblers broke a 12-12 tie in the fourth quarter to beat Vidalia, La., 19-12, here last night.

Howard Stutz ran for the only extra point of the night.

Jill scored the first Woodville TD in the first period when he picked up a fumble and ran 15 yards. Another Vidalia fumble turned into a Woodville TD when Louis Sturgeon rambled 65 yards with a bobble in the second period.

George Franklin scored for Vidalia in the second with an 8-yard run. Jim Stringer ran 20 yards to set up the score.

Vidalia tied up in the fourth when Jimmy Boles took a pass from Stringer for eight yards and a touchdown.

BERNICE BEATEN, 7-0

PLAIN DEALING, La. (Special) —Plain Dealing pushed over a final - period touchdown to nip Bernice, 7-0, on a water-soaked field here last night.

Halfback Allen scampered 38 yards for the winning counter. Stanley ran the extra point. Bernice reeled off 12 first downs and 195 yards rushing but couldn't gain when it counted. Plain Dealing picked up 6 first downs and rushed for 169 yards.

Morris Reeves was the Bernice standout on offense. Lloyd Grafton and Jerry Lazenby shone defensively.

ISLAND, MANGHAM TIE

MANGHAM, La. (Special) —A last - ditch clutch drive to within inches of the goal line in the last 30 seconds was fumbled away by the Mangham Dragons here last night and they had to settle for a 13-13 deadlock with Sicily Island's passing wizards.

Clarendon Peck rifled a 28-yard pass to Joe Willis to set up the first Island touchdown. Peck then broke away for eight yards and the TD. Peck threw to Johnny Young for the extra point.

Mangham quarterback Donald Adams took the kickoff and broke away for a beautiful 80 - yard run for a Dragon touchdown.

In the fourth quarter, Noble Ellington took the ball and ran 53 yards for Mangham touchdown with Adams kicking the extra point.

The Islanders, a touchdown behind, opened up their passing attack, and with the aid of a 15-yard penalty against Mangham and a pass from Charles Miller to Joe Miller, tied it up.

Brilliant workhorse Pat Shows scored both touchdowns to push his total to 10 for the young season and gained 207 yards to lead Ruston's unbeaten Bearcats to a 14-0 victory over determined Ouachita here Friday night.

Shows dashed 79 yards in the first period to set up the initial Ruston touchdown and gained 51 first TD two plays after his 79-yard dash by going four yards around right end. He knifed three yards off tackle for the final six points.

End Jerry Hood added the extra points with his 11th and 12th conversions without a miss.

Bob Ellen's Ouachita Lions threatened once in the first half, going to the 10 where Bobby Hendrix, the Lions' heavy-duty man, was thrown for an 11-yard loss trying to pass on fourth down.

Ouachita's offense, impressive at times in the first half, was a total loss in the second. Ruston's mobile forward wall held them to a minus 18 yards. However, Ouachita did reach the Ruston 22, thanks to a pretty 34 yard punt return by Bobby Shipp to the 29.

With third and three at the 29, Hendrix lost seven yards and on fourth down, his screen pass went unnoticed and uncaptured. Shows put on a terrific one-man show. He either ran, passed or punted on 45 of Ruston's 60 offensive plays, running 36 times for 207 yards and a 5.7 average.

Ouachita took the opening kickoff, rang up one first down and punted. Shows returned it to his 16. On the next play, he got loose into the secondary, cut to the left sideline and dashed to the Ouachita five. Ervin Bates, 10 yards behind at one point, finally pulled him down from behind.

With Shipp, Woody Mahoney, Hendrix and Ted Smith moving, Ouachita traveled to the Ruston nine before running out of steam.

Shows ran once for one yard and then went around end for the touchdown. Hood kicked the PAT.

Ruston threatened again in the second period, going to the 16 before being pushed back to the 24. Gary Warlick ended the threat by punting on Billy Rives' fumble on the 24.

The top play of the push was a brilliant run by Hendrix. Back to pass on his 33, he was almost pulled down but decided to run and rambled 37 yards.

Ruston went to the Ouachita 23 early in the third period before Shows was stopped for no gain on fourth down.

The last Bearcat scoring drive started after Ruston took over after Ouachita's unfruitful drive to the 29. With Shows contributing runs of 12 and 18 yards, and Wallace Martin going nine, the Bearcats moved to the three from where Shows went over tackle.

Hood, Don Hammons, George Davidson and Sammy Riser starred in Ruston's forward wall while Bates, Johnny Roach, Bill Ramin and R. W. Kimball stood out defensively for Ouachita.

SLI closed out the scoring in the last quarter as quarterback Joe Calloway tossed a 48-yard scoring pass to end Lawree Montgomery.

SLI Defeats Sam Houston

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Southwestern Louisiana Institute broke into the victory column Friday night, beating down Sam Houston, 19-7 before a crowd of 3,000.

SLI fullback Dan Mastrea opened the scoring in the second quarter when he latched on to a Houston fumble in mid-air and ran 82 yards for a touchdown. End Richard Coffey converted.

On the first play of the second half, SLI halfback Steve Gossen smashed off tackle, shook off two would-be tacklers and went 58 yards for a score.

The Texans made it 13-6 when they drove 54 yards with halfback Mark Scotta going into paydirt from the two. Quarterback Ronnie Choate kicked the extra point.

Northeast Hosts Delta; TCU To Test Bengals

New Faces Dot Lineup For Indians

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

Thwarted in their 1959 grid opener on the road last weekend, the Northeast Indians return to the friendly confines of Brown Stadium with a reshuffled lineup for the home inaugural against the Delta State College Statesmen tonight.

Kickoff time for the contest, the eighth in a series which began in 1952, is scheduled for eight o'clock.

After taking a 15-0 setback against Arkansas State College last Saturday, head coach Jack Rowan shuffled the Tribe into a unit and promoted three second stringers to starting status.

Junior signal caller Curtis Cook, impressive in the final period

In order to facilitate the seating of spectators for tonight's game, J. M. Nicholson, Dean of Administration at Northeast, requests the following rules be observed:

1. Reserved seat tickets will be sold only on the stadium side of the field. General admission and end zone tickets will be sold only at Gate 5 and Gate 7. Spectators will not be permitted to pass between the east and west stands before or during the game.

2. All seats on the stadium side are reserved seats. Seats on the east side are for general admission and student seats. Bleachers in the end zones are for general admission.

3. The entrance gate for Northeast students is Gate 6 next to the Student Center.

against State with his pin point passing, has replaced Bob Randal on the first team at the quarterback post for tonight's skirmish.

Bob Tatum, a 210-pound sophomore tackle, and Robert Earle, 205-pound senior end, have also been tapped for duty with the starting Apaches.

Teamed with Earle at the terminal positions will be Jerry Head (193), a hustling senior from Newellton. Tackle Delmas Thorne, another 200-pounder, gives the Indians beef up front along with guards Alfred Feeney (200) and Wally Cox (190). Jerry Marchbanks (200) will play center and linebacker.

Jim Laudadio (190), Terry Reeves (150) and Stewart "Smoky" Stover (210), all starters against Arkansas State, will handle the ball carrying roles for Northeast tonight.

Reeves, an ex-Neville standout, picked off a pair of enemy passes and reeled off several fine runs against State. Last year's top team scorer, Laudadio has been suffering from an ankle injury but should be near top speed against Delta.

Stover, fullback and co-captain along with Feeney, is the Tribe workhorse with his backs through the middle of the line. He was the key to several drives against Arkansas which fizzled deep in enemy territory.

Slated to see front-line sub duty are ends Pete Covington (205) and James Moore (195), tackles Ross Nolan (225) and Dick Loner (200) and guards Larry Rabin (190) and Carroll Brown (190).

Bo Williams (205) holds down the center post on the second team Comanches with the backfield composed of Randal (180), Levy Redden (175), Jerry Hines (180) and Marvin McManus (190). Freshman halfback Joe Thraill, one of the Redskins' most promising runners in pre-season practice, will sit out the game with a shoulder injury.

Tackles Luther French and Bill Broom are still ailing and probably won't suit up for the contest.

Delta State, rebuilding from a disastrous record of one win, one tie and six losses last season, got off to a rousing start last Friday. Bolstered by a host of transfer griders, the Statesmen walloped A&M, 32-6.

Spearheading Coach Gene Chadwick's Delta eleven are a couple of shifty backs, Leon Franklin (175) and James Hubbard (180). Both are juniors and came to Delta via the junior college route.

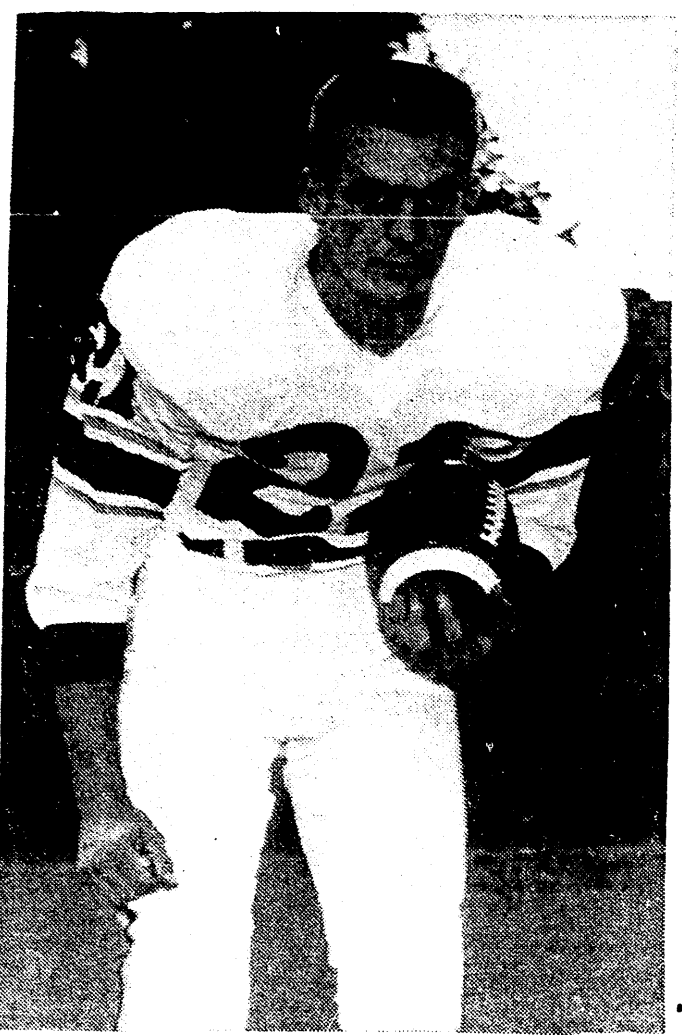

Center Jimmy Deakle (207), a former University of Tennessee athlete, and tackle Kelly Collins (204), another junior college product, anchor the starting line which weighs in at an average of 194 pounds per man.

The host Indians will weigh in at an even 200 pound average in the forward wall.

Northeast trounced Delta State 23-0 last season and holds a 6-1 edge in the series.

A colorful halftime show featuring marching bands from both schools has been planned.

Pale Sox Have 'Togetherness'

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP)—"I guess you could call it togetherness," said old pro Earl Torgeson. "Yes, that's what we have — togetherness."

It has been 11 years since the 35-year-old first baseman played in a World Series game and back in 1948 his Boston Braves' team lead the league in batting and counted on Spahn, Spain and a day of rain for its pitching.

Torgeson's championship team of 1959, the Chicago White Sox, has different qualities.

"I guess we're a bunch of misfits," said Torgeson. "Most every man on this club got here via trade. We've been called misfits, rascals, hand-me-downs and castoffs."

But now they have to call us champs. Maybe we are misfits for the most part, but we fit together pretty well and worked hard to get where we are. About 40 per cent of our wins have been by one-run margins. That's doing it the hard way."

Torgeson kicked around in both leagues before landing with the White Sox during the 1957 season. The Sox got close for a while in both 1957 and 1958 but the New York Yankees won the flag each year.

"It took three years of hard work but we finally made it," said Torgeson. "And it wasn't easy. We couldn't relax for a minute. This is a compact ball club — no loose ends — no friction — no stragglers. Those one-run victories are indicative of the way we've had to scramble for every little bit of success."

Torgeson said a writer asked him before the clinching game against Cleveland Tuesday night, "Are you tense?"

"Hell, yes, we're all tense," Torgy said he replied. "We're not a loose ball club. The minute we relax, we get our brains beat out. We've been tight for three years now."

Winning so many games on speed and airtight pitching has provided each member of the White Sox team with "a baseball education," Torgeson added.

"Every man has had to keep his mind totally on the game," he said. "Guys on the bench are right in each game. The fielders can't afford to play a single batter out of position. And every pitch our pitchers throw means something."

Only a handful of the new American League champions came up through the White Sox farm system — players like Luis Aparicio, Barry Latman, Jim Landis, Sam Esposito, Earl Batley and John Romano. Most of the front-lineers were acquired in trades, some of them going back 10 years or more.

"I've been places where the players who weren't brought up by the club were treated like misfits, outsiders," Torgeson said. "All that talk about team spirit is not merely talk. Our White Sox club has operated as a team all the way through."

Manager Al Lopez operates his team like a machine. Our machine is designed to cut wheat, you might say. So Lopez doesn't have us try to show how well we can drive that machine, and he does not try to do anything except cut wheat with us. That's why we're the champions."

Cannon Will Duel Spikes In B.R. Bout

BATON ROUGE (AP)—National champion Louisiana State's long-awaited meeting with rugged Texas Christian may produce one of the football season's top individual battles between all-America Billy Cannon and TCU's Jack Spikes.

But more importantly, the game may give the first solid indication if LSU is again national championship material.

LSU took the No. 1 spot in this week's Associated Press poll while TCU, kingpin of the Southwest Conference, rated No. 9. And pre-game estimates give LSU a touchdown or so edge.

The Tigers opened the season last week by trimming Rice 26-3 with a rapid-fire second half scoring spurge. TCU was hard-pressed to whip Kansas 14-7.

Cannon is no stranger to the football headlines and he got off to an impressive season's start against Rice, scoring on a 17-yard jaunt and compiling 66 yards as the game's top ground-gainer.

The 200-pound Spikes is the wheelhorse of the attack and the Horned Frogs will lean mightily on him to test the LSU line before the capacity 67,000 fans Saturday night. He set up the winning touchdown against Kansas last week with a 67-yard gallop.

TCU will have a decided weight advantage in the line, but the Tigers have the edge going for them in the backfield.

The meeting at 8 p.m. (CST) will be the fourth between the teams with TCU holding the advantage, two games to one and one tie. TCU clipped the Tigers 3-2 in the 1957 Sugar Bowl game.

The Horned Frogs are the middle of the Southwest Conference sandwich the Tigers will munch for three weeks. Last week it was Rice and next Saturday at Shreveport, LSU tackles Baylor.

Coach Paul Dietzel of LSU termed TCU the toughest team he's faced. They have met since he came to LSU.

The weatherman predicted partly cloudy, rainless skies and temperatures in the middle to upper 70s by kickoff time. Widely scattered afternoon showers were expected to be over by night.

Auburn Seeks 24th Victory Without Loss

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Auburn's band of traveling aerialists, seeking the Tigers' 24th victory without a loss, invade Tennessee Saturday to open the Southeastern Conference football season for both teams.

An expected crowd of 43,000 probably will see the third-ranked Tigers unleash a torrid passing attack.

The confidence is bolstered by six outstanding passers, including quarterback Richard Wood, Bryant Harvard, Bobby Hunt, Jimmy Pettus, Johnny Kern and Bo Davis.

Wood, at quarterback, directs the Tigers' attack. With him in the backfield will be halfbacks Pettus and Lamar Rawson and fullback Ed Dyas.

Junior fullback Bill Majors, a do-it-all veteran, will direct Tennessee's operations, assisted in the backfield by fullback Neyle Collier, blocking back Jim Cartwright and wingback Ken Waddell.

Sunshine, with temperatures in the 80s and high humidity, is forecast for the game, beginning at 2 p.m., EST.

GRAMBLING, La. (Special)—Two of the most underrated teams in the Southwestern Conference will stampede into the stadium here Saturday night when Grambling opens its four-game home campaign with Texas College.

Both teams moved sprightly in final workouts and opposing coaches admitted somewhat reluctantly that the Tigers and Steers looked zestful for the big test.

Texas College is loaded with veteran performers and Grambling has excellent running credentials.

THIRD RBI

Hodges' Home Run In 11th Gives Dodger 5-4 Verdict

CHICAGO (AP)—Gil Hodges' 11th inning homer for his third RBI of the game swept the pennant-pursuing Los Angeles Dodgers to a 5-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs Friday.

Pending Milwaukee's night home game with Philadelphia, the triumph moved the Dodgers into a half-game lead in the down-to-the-wire National League race.

Hodges doubled to drive across two runs in the sixth when Los Angeles took a 4-2 lead.

Wally Moon also homered for Los Angeles in the first. Sammy Taylor and Ernie Banks slammed the Dodgers into a 1-0 lead in the eighth and sending the game into extra innings.

Larry Sherry, third Dodger pitcher, notched the victory. Starter Don Drysdale (17-13) was chased in the seventh. Sherry, taking over from Danny McDevitt in the 10th, got his sixth victory against two defeats.

The loser was Bill Henry, who replaced Cub Starter Glen Hobbie at the start of the eighth. Henry now has a 9-8 record.

Hodges' decisive blow came as dusk was settling on lightless Wrigley Field. The triumph was all the Dodgers' 10th against a many defeats facing the Cubs this season.

This turned the tables on the Cubs who Tuesday and Wednesday won come-from-behind victories over San Francisco and knocked the Giants practically out of pennant contention.

When Sherry struck out pinch batter Dale Long to end the game, Dodger players rushed from all sides to congratulate him.

The Dodgers wind up the regular season against the Cubs with single games Saturday and Sunday.

Drysdale, who has found Wrigley Field a jinx in his major league career, had to quit in the seventh. After Sammy Taylor led off with his 13th home run and Alvin Dark singled, Drysdale was yanked in favor of McDevitt.

Pinch-batter Randy Jackson made first on an attempted sacrifice when McDevitt threw badly to first.

NEW YORK (AP)—Round Table, the millionaire 5-year-old, Hillsdale, 4-year-old winner of nearly a half million dollars this year, and Sword Dancer, the cream of the 3-year-olds, meet Saturday in a dream race at the 33 million dollar Aqueduct plant.

Five other horses surprisingly were entered Friday against the Big Three for the $113,800 Woodward Stakes over a mile and a quarter. The blue ribbon special will be nationally telecast (CBS, 3:30-4 p.m., EST).

The winner of this weight-for-age classic will take home $72,700 and undoubtedly, if it's one of the favored trio, horse of the year honors.

Round Table, from Travis Kerr's Oklahoma-owned stables, looked as the 35 choice to add the fat part of the purse to his all-time record pile of $1,679,539.

Under the weight-for-age conditions, Round Table will carry 126 pounds. This is the same package that will be carried by Hillsdale and all the other with the exception of Sword Dancer, who will tote 120. Hillsdale figures to be 8-5, Sword Dancer 3-1, and the others 20-1 and up.

The others named for the Woodward include the Jack Weipert trained entry of D&M Stable's Inside Tract and W. C. Partee's Babu; El Peco Ranch's Anisado; Rose Hill Farm's Ozark, and Alf Vanderbilt's 9-year-old gelding, Find.

Hirsch Jacobs, 11 times the leading American trainer, feels strongly that Round Table will win, especially with such a big weight bargain.

"He's a great horse," said Jacobs. "If the Woodward were a handicap, Round Table would get eight or ten more pounds than Hillsdale. He'd get at least 12 more pounds than Sword Dancer. Even on a damp track it's Round Table."

The forecast was for clear skies and continued warm weather.

Northeast Hosts Delta; TCU To Test Bengals

New Faces Dot Lineup For Indians

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

Thwarted in their 1959 grid opener on the road last weekend, the Northeast Indians return to the friendly confines of Brown Stadium with a reshuffled lineup for the home inaugural against the Delta State College Statesmen tonight.

Kickoff time for the contest, the eighth in a series which began in 1952, is scheduled for eight o'clock.

After taking a 15-0 setback against Arkansas State College last Saturday, head coach Jack Rowan shuffled the Tribe first unit and promoted three second stringers to starting status.

Pale Sox Have 'Togetherness'

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP)—"I guess you could call it togetherness," said old pro Earl Torgeson. "Yes, that's what we have — togetherness."

It has been 11 years since the 35-year-old first baseman played in a World Series game and back in 1948 his Boston Braves' team lead the league in batting and counted on Spahn, Spain and a day of rain for its pitching.

Torgeson's championship team of 1959, the Chicago White Sox, has different qualities.

"I guess we're a bunch of misfits," said Torgeson. "Most every man on this club got here via trade. We've been called misfits, retradees, hand-me-downs and castoffs."

But now they have to call us champs. Maybe we are misfits for

Tigers Drop White Sox On Boner, 6 To 5

DETROIT (AP)—A ninth-inning boner by first baseman Norm Cash gave the Detroit Tigers a 6-5 verdict over the Chicago White Sox Friday.

Cash, who had replaced Earl Torgeson a moment before, held onto the ball while Al Kaline slid home with the winning run. The Tigers rallied for three runs in the bottom half of the inning after the White Sox took a 5-3 lead with two runs in their half.

Torgeson made a wide throw to second base on an attempted force play and his error landed the bases with one out. Lou Berberet sent a bouncer to second base and Billy Goodman forced the runner at home.

Catcher John Romano's throw to first was too late to get Berberet, but Kaline scored as Catcher Don Mossi pitched a six-hit ball for the victory, his 17th against nine losses. Al Smith hit a two-run homer off him in the second when the Sox scored three times.

the most part, but we fit together pretty well and worked hard to get where we are. About 40 per cent of our wins have been by one-run margins. That's doing it the hard way."

Torgeson kicked around in both leagues before landing with the White Sox during the 1957 season. The Sox got close for a while in both 1957 and 1958 but the New York Yankees won the flag each year.

"I took three years of hard work but we finally made it," said Torgeson. "And it wasn't easy. We couldn't relax for a minute. This is a compact ball club—no loose ends — no friction—no stragglers. Those one-run victories are indicative of the way we've had to scramble for every little bit of success."

Torgeson said a writer asked him before the clinching game against Cleveland Tuesday night, "Are you tense?"

"Hell, yes, we're all tense," Torgy said he replied. "We're not a loose ball club. The minute we relax, we get our brains beat out. We've been tight for three years now."

Winning so many games on speed and airtight pitching has provided each member of the White Sox team with "a baseball education," Torgeson added.

"Every man has had to keep his mind totally on the game," he said. "Guys on the bench are right in each game. The fielders can't afford to play a single batter out of position. And every pitch our pitchers throw means something."

Only a handful of the new American League champions came up through the White Sox farm system—players like Luis Aparicio, Barry Lutzman, Jim Landis, Sam Esposito, Earl Battey and John Romano. Most of the front-liners were acquired in trades, some of them going back 10 years or more.

"I've been places where the players who weren't brought up by the club were treated like misfits, outsiders," Torgeson said. "All that talk about team spirit is not mercy talk. Our White Sox club has operated as a team all the way through."

Manager Al Lopez operates his team like a machine. Our machine is designed to cut wheat, you might say. So Lopez doesn't have us try to show how well we can drive that machine, and he does not try to do anything except cut wheat with us. That's why we're the champions."

Carroll Rout Mansfield, 28-12

Carroll High of Monroe bounced Mansfield, 28-12, here last night in a crucial North Louisiana AAA contest.

Mansfield took the lead in the first period with a touchdown but missed on the conversion.

Halfback Julian Gray put the Bulldogs back in the game, scoring after a fumble. Anderson Chaffin ran the two-point after.

Seconds later the Bulldogs notched another when Mansfield fumbled on the kickoff. Earl Wade roamed over the score.

Cannon Will Duel Spikes In B.R. Bout

BATON ROUGE (AP)—National champion Louisiana State's long-awaited meeting with rugged Texas Christian may produce one of the football season's top individual battles between all-America Billy Cannon and TCU's Jack Spikes.

But more importantly, the game may give the first solid indication if LSU is again national championship material.

LSU took the No. 1 spot in this week's Associated Press poll while TCU, kingpin of the Southwest Conference, rated No. 9. And pre-game estimates give LSU a touchdown or so edge.

The Tigers opened the season last week by trimming Rice 26-3 with a rapid-fire second half scoring spurge. TCU was hard-pressed to whip Kansas 14-7.

Cannon is no stranger to the football headlines and he got off to an impressive season's start against Rice, scoring on a 17-yard jaunt and compiling 66 yards as the game's top ground-gainer.

The 200-pound Spikes is the wheelhorse of the attack and the Horned Frogs will lean mightily on him to test the LSU line before the capacity 67,000 fans Saturday night. He set up the winning touchdown against Kansas last week with a 67-yard gallop.

TCU will have a decided weight advantage in the line, but the Tigers have the edge going for the win in the backfield.

The meeting at 8 p.m. (CST) will be the fourth between the teams with TCU holding the advantage, two games to one and one tie. TCU clipped the Tigers 3-2 in the 1957 Sugar Bowl game.

The Horned Frogs are the middle of the Southwest Conference sandwich the Tigers will munch for three weeks. Last week it was Rice and next Saturday at Shreveport, LSU tackles Baylor. Coach Paul Dietzel of LSU termed TCU the toughest team his Tigers have met since he came to LSU.

The weatherman predicted partly cloudy, rainless skies and temperatures in the middle to upper 70s by kickoff time. Widely scattered afternoon showers were expected to be over by night.

Auburn Seeks 24th Victory Without Loss

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Auburn's band of traveling aerialists, seeking the Tigers' 24th victory without a loss, invade Tennessee Saturday to open the Southeastern Conference football season for both teams.

An expected crowd of 43,000 probably will see the third-ranked Tigers unleash a torrid passing attack.

The confidence is bolstered by six outstanding passers, including quarterback Richard Wood, Bryant Harvard, Bobby Hunt, Jimmy Pettus, Johnny Kern and Bo Davis.

Wood, at quarterback, directs the Tigers' attack. With him in the backfield will be halfbacks Pettus and Lamar Rawson and fullback Ed Dyas.

Junior tailback Bill Majors, a do-it-all veteran, will direct Tennessee's operations, assisted in the backfield by fullback Neyle Solle, blocking back Jim Cartwright and wingback Ken Wardell.

Sunshine, with temperatures in the 80s and high humidity, is forecast for the game, beginning at 2 p.m. EST.

Texas College At Grambling For Loop Tilt

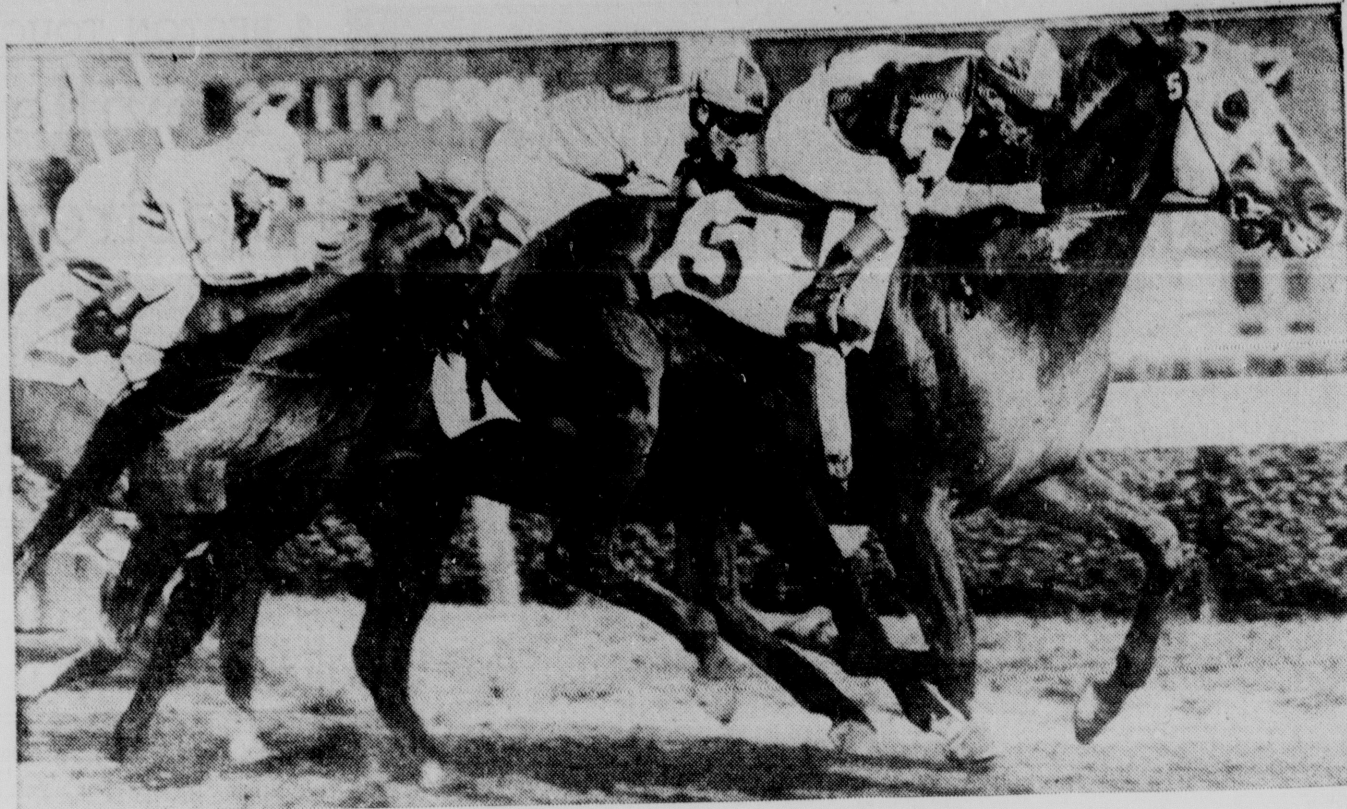

GRAMBLING, La. (Special)—Two of the most underrated teams in the Southwestern Conference will stampede into the stadium here Saturday night when Grambling opens its four-game home campaign with Texas College.

Both teams moved sprightly in final workouts and opposing coaches admitted somewhat reluctantly that the Tigers and Steers looked zestful for the big test.

Texas College is loaded with veteran performers and Grambling has excellent running credentials.

The contest is the Tiger's initial Southwestern Conference venture and they will hit the midriff of the Steeps with little regard for the longevity of themselves or

The kickoff is scheduled for 7:00 p.m.

THIRD RBI

Hodges' Home Run In 11th Gives Dodger 5-4 Verdict

CHICAGO (AP) — Gil Hodges' 11th inning homer for his third RBI of the game swept the pennant-pursuing Los Angeles Dodgers to a 5-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs Friday.

Pending Milwaukee's night home game with Philadelphia, the triumph moved the Dodgers into a half-game lead in the down-to-the-wire National League race.

Hodges doubled to drive across two runs in the sixth when Los Angeles took a 4-2 lead.

Wally Moon also homered for Los Angeles in the first. Sammy Taylor and Ernie Banks slammed Cub homers. Banks' No. 45 of the season tying the score at 4-4 in the eighth and sending the game into extra innings.

Larry Sherry, third Dodger pitcher, notched the victory. Starter Don Drysdale (17-13) was chased in the seventh. Sherry, taking over from Danny McDevitt in the 10th, got his sixth victory against two defeats.

The loser was Bill Henry, who replaced Cub Starter Glen Hobbie at the start of the eighth. Henry now has a 9-8 record.

Hodges' decisive blow came as dusk was settling on lightless Wrigley Field. The triumph was only the Dodgers' 10th against as many defeats facing the Cubs this season.

This turned the tables on the Cubs who Tuesday and Wednesday won come-from-behind victories over San Francisco and knocked the Giants practically out of pennant contention.

When Sherry struck out pinch batter Dale Long to end the game, Dodger players rushed from all sides to congratulate him.

The Dodgers wind up the regular season against the Cubs with single games Saturday and Sunday.

Drysdale, who has found Wrigley Field a jinx in his major league career, had to quit in the seventh. After Sammy Taylor led off with his 13th home run and Alvin Dark singled, Drysdale was yanked in favor of McDevitt. Pinch-batter Randy Jackson made first on an attempted sacrifice when McDevitt threw badly to first.

However, McDevitt got out of only the Dodgers' 10th against as

AFTER PLAYERS STRICKEN

Oklahoma Coach Refuses To Alibi

By COL. EARL H. RED BLAIR
Former Football Coach

NEW YORK (AP)—I talked by phone with Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson at Evanston Friday and he refused to offer the violent illness of 12 of his key players as any sort of pre-game alibi.

"It is like injuries," he said, "a part of the game. We will go along and do the best we can."

The dubious condition of these players, however, is bound to affect Oklahoma's performance against Northwestern Saturday. I know this from a personal experience at West Point 11 years ago. An Army team previously undefeated was laid low by rancid turkey two days before the Navy game. Our physical condition as well as Navy's traditional spirit accounted for an unexpected tie.

Coach Wilkinson told me that the six players who spent the night in the hospital were returned this morning to the hotel where the team is staying and immediately put back to bed. They are being fed intravenously and allowed to get as much sleep as possible in the hope that they will have sufficient strength to suit up Saturday.

They include Bobby Boyd, regular quarterback and an indispensable man in the Oklahoma attack; Gilmer Lewis, star tackle and co-captain; Jim Davis, and Bob Scholl, the first and alternate team centers; Bob Page, re-

ARK. STATE INVADERS

Home Fans Get First Look At Louisiana Tech Tonight

RUSTON, La. (Special)—Home fans will get their first look at Louisiana Tech's 1959 football team here Saturday night when the Bulldogs tangle in an interstate grid battle with Arkansas State. Kickoff time for the Tech home opener will be 8 p.m. at Tech Stadium.

In the Saturday tussle the Techsters will be trying to make it three straight over the Indians of Arkansas State but this task will likely prove a rugged one. Last week the Staters turned on the power and kept their goal line uncrossed as they blanked North-east State, another Gulf States Conference member, by a 15-0 score. In their curtain-raiser last week, the Bulldogs fell, 13-6, to strong Lamar Tech at Beaumont, Tex.

The three previous battles between Tech and Arkansas State have been close ones with never more than a touchdown difference. In 1956 the Redskins won by a 21-13 score. The Techmen managed to come out on the long end of a 25-19 fray in 1957 and a 14-7 game in 1958.

With eight starters back in the Indian camp this season, the Arkansas crew is reported to be just as strong as last season. In the Northeast win last week, quarterbacks Billy Caldwell and Bobby Hogue showed a good passing attack in connecting on nine of 13 aerials for 115 yards through the air. There will likely be more of the same this Saturday.

Indian fullback Allan Stolt was the chief running threat last week, picking up more than four yards per carry. Shifty Don Miller, Roy Nelson and Julius Head are dangerous halfbacks. Miller, who averaged almost eight yards per try in 1958, ran for one TD against the Indians last week.

Tech's Bulldogs will counter the Arkansas running threat with such standouts as halfbacks Paul Hynes and J. W. Slack, and fullback Max Rudd. Hynes, an All-Gulf States Conference first team selection in 1958, flashed his old form in the Lamar Tech game by stepping off 106 yards in 12 carries to average 8.8 per try.

Tech's quarterback Mickey Slaughter, Alexandria freshman, showed passing ability in the Lamar tussle by hitting four out of seven thrown. Two of his passes to end Tom Causey helped set up Tech's only TD of the game.

Arkansas State's likely starting line will outweigh the Bulldogs slightly. The visitors will average 201 per man up front and the Canines 199.

The Indian line is led by a 225 pound junior tackle, Jerry Arant, who is being mentioned for Little All-American honors. Senior center Tommy Davis, named most valuable player on the squad last season, is another stalwart in the Redskin forward wall.

Tech's line, which rose up to stop Lamar Tech twice at the one yard mark, is let by guards Joe Hinton and Don Tippitt and tackles Bobby Hinton and Bobby Hudson. All four drew praise for their rugged work last week in the season opener.

Injuries in the Lamar fray put several Techsters on the doubtful list this week. End Charlie Garis, with a sprained ankle, is the only first stringer who is still a question mark for the Arkansas State affair. Three injured tackles include Roger Reeves, Bobby Hudson and Tucson Dunn.

Probable starters for Arkansas State will include: LE, Tom Perkins, 205; LT, Jerry Arant, 225; LG, Wayne Hollingsworth, 190; C, Tommy Davis, 180; RG, Larry Zabrowski, 211; RT, Frank Smith, 226; RE, Gilbert Arnold, 170; QB, Billy Caldwell, 187; LH, Don Miller, 163; RH, Roy Nelson, 178; FB, Allan Stolt, 175.

Likely starters for the Techmen are: RE, Charles Garis, 195, or Bobby Smith, 215; LT, Bobby Hinton, 205; LG, Joe Hinton, 193; C, Jim Campbell, 190; RG, Don Tippitt, 195; RT, Bobby Hudson, 220; RE, Jerry Hudson, 198; QB, Taylor McNeel, 195; LH, J. W. Slack, 190; RH, Paul Hynes, 190; FB, Max Rudd, 190.

Bulldog Fullbacks

Filling the fullback slot for Louisiana Tech when the Bulldogs clash with Arkansas State at Ruston Saturday night will be these three ball carriers. They are (left to right) Max Rudd, 190 pound junior letterman from Minden, B. K. Miller, Sicily Island junior who also tips the scales at 190, and Wayne Parker, 195, Minden sophomore. Miller lettered last fall at halfback. The Tech-Arkansas State battle will get underway at 8 p.m. at Tech Stadium Saturday night in the first appearance of the season for the Bulldogs on the home field.

Rain Pushes Giants Into Double Bill

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A hard driving rain washed out Friday night's National League game between the still-hopeful San Francisco Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals. They'll play a two-night doubleheader Saturday.

"Maybe it's all for the best," said Giants' manager Bill Rigney. "Maybe this will change our luck."

The Giants, who led the league by two games last week and then went into a five-game nosedive, can only hope for a tie now as a result of the Dodgers' 5-4 11-inning victory over the Chicago Cubs Friday afternoon.

Umpire Frank Dascoli decided to call off the game after a last-minute check with the Weather Bureau, which until an hour before game time held out hope the rain would stop.

Because of the importance of the series, final say on whether the teams would take the field was left to Dascoli, acting as a representative of NL President Warren Giles.

Before Dascoli's decision was relayed to him in the Giants' clubhouse, Rigney said he'd prefer to play two Saturday.

"Pitchingwise, I'd prefer it," he said, propping his feet on a wooden upright next to his locker. "They're tired."

Rigney plans to use Sad Sam Jones (20-15) and Jack Sanford (15-12) in the twinbill. The Cards' Solly Hemus will counter with Vinegar Bend Mizell (13-9) and Larry Jackson (13-13).

GOLDEN GATE GOLF

Stranahan's Hot 67 Takes Charge

By JACK STEVENSON
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Muscular Frank Stranahan, a non-winner on the pro golf circuit this year, fired a 4-under-par 67 Friday for the second round lead at 135 in the $40,000 Golden Gate championship.

That gave him a one-stroke edge over little Jerry Barber of Los Angeles and the 1958 U.S. Open champ, Tommy Bolt. Barber turned in the tournament's best round to date, a 66 for 136 while Bolt fired a 67.

The field began to stretch out at this midway point in the 72-hole tournament over the exciting Harding Park Course as the first cut left 90 low pros and ties and 10 amateurs for Saturday's third round.

Stranahan's long driving and accuracy on the greens gave him his second sub-par round after he opened with a 68 just one off the pace of former U.S. Open champion Jack Fleck and young Mason Rudolph. Both pace-setters slipped 1-over-par to 72 Friday and a 139 total. Also there was Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., who shot a 70 to go with his opening 69.

Husky Bob Goalby, played out of Crystal River, Fla., moved into fourth place, two strokes away from the leaders with a 68 Friday and a total of 137. At 138 came last year's PGA champion, Dow Finsterwald, of Tequesta, Fla., with 70-68.

Friday turned bright and sunny after Thursday's cloudy opening weather, but still the golfers didn't tear up this municipal course.

A group of five deadlocked at 140 including the hometown favorite, Ken Venturi, who carded a 68 to go with his opening 72. Also in that bracket were Gay Brewer Jr., Paul Runyan, Ken Venturi, Paul Runyan, Mike Souhak and Jim Ferrie.

Both Stranahan and Barber finished early but Bolt came charging in among the late starters. Tommy carded six birdies as he ran in putts from four to 8 feet but without any long ones.

At the 11th he missed a 3-footer but said that in general "I was playing the course real well."

Souhak, who also started just one off the pace, went one stroke over par to land in the group at 140. The list of par breakers for the 36 holes dropped to 19 after the second round.

It took a score of 150 or better for a pro to stay in the tournament.

NEW ORLEANS INTERVIEW

Johansson Says Rocky Training

By ED TUNSTALL
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson injected a bit of life Friday into the dying reports of a possible match with retired king Rocky Marciano and said he knew the ex-champ was in training.

"All I can say is I know he's in training," the 26-year old heavy-weight ruler told newsmen. "I know he's working out and back in training."

The Swedish bomber said he would like to meet Marciano in the ring.

"I'd like to meet anybody for a big fight," he told reporters in accent - tinged English. But he broke into a big smile when he spoke of Marciano.

Johansson is hopping around the country in a private plane with the former Rolf and Detroit industrialist Gustav von Reis, a native of Johansson's home town of Goteborg, Sweden. Miami is the next port of call, but strictly on personal business, the champion said.

He showed a neat bit of footwork in dodging questions that he might meet with Marciano while in Miami. But he said he wouldn't go out of his way to contact Marciano.

What about reports that he would rather meet light heavy-weight champion Archie Moore before a return match with Floyd Patterson, from whom he lifted the title?

"No, no," he emphasized. "All

I said was I would like to fight Moore, but the Patterson match comes first."

It was later learned that Johansson is all set to meet in Philadelphia next week with Vincent Velella, Irving Kahn, and probably some members of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission to discuss a Patterson fight for Philadelphia next June.

Velella is head of the promotional firm that holds the contract for the Johansson-Patterson return bout. Kahn is head of a closed circuit television firm and a director of Velella's boxing company.

He said he had a million-dollar offer to meet Moore and other overtures to fight Roy Harris in Houston, Tex. But there's nothing definite on the agenda except the Patterson match next June.

Johansson said he has yet to receive any money from the Patterson fight.

"Everything's tied up in escrow," he said, occasionally questioning Von Reis in Swedish for the exact English word he wanted. "The gate, money from the fight films, everything."

"It'll be one hell of a big income that year if I get it all at one time," he mused.

He said he had to agree to that type of arrangement in order to get the fight.

"It was my only chance," he said. "I had to do whatever they wanted. But I was willing to do anything to get the match."

CURCI LEADS WAY

Miami Swamps Green Wave, 26-7

By BEN FUNK
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami's Hurricanes, bouncing back after a disastrous season, launched their 1959 campaign Friday night by easily overrunning Tulane 26-7 as Fran Curci's sharp passing and hard running by a trio of backs highlighted the victory.

Curci, a 152-pound senior quarterback, once completed seven passes in a row as he kept the Miami offense constantly on the move. Bob Rosbaugh scored two Miami touchdowns—on an 18-yard run and on a six-yard pass from Curci. Frank Bouffard got the other on a 19-yard run.

The Hurricanes took a 13-7 lead at halftime, then scored in each of the last two quarters. Tulane's lone touchdown in the second period came on a 19-yard pass from Bob Connolly to Howard Kiser.

Coach Andy Gustafson has installed a complete new multiple offense at Miami but the Hurricanes weren't required to show many of their new plays.

A crowd of 35,688 turned out to see if the Hurricanes could come back after last year's miserable 2-4 season, the worst in Miami annals.

It was the second straight loss for Tulane, which fell before Florida last week 30-0.

Top Archers Will Compete At Jonesboro

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — The State Bowhunter Meet scheduled for Jackson Parish Sunday Sept. 27, is expected to draw some of the top competition in the South. The shooting will be held at Bear Knoll, about five miles north of Jonesboro, according to Leamon Hodnett, president of the local Bowmen Association.

"Everything is in order, and we are expecting several national, regional and state champions to participate," said Hodnett.

The Bear Knoll range includes 84 acres of land open to anyone who wishes to hunt there with bow.

This is the second state wide event sponsored recently by the Jackson Parish Jaycees. A few months ago, they brought the State Amateur Golf Championship to Hodge.

Refreshments will be served, and Hodnett has extended an invitation for all interested to attend.

The schedule of Solunar Periods as printed below has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

Tribe Takes Double Win Over Athletics

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 8-2 and 8-7 Friday night, winning the nightcap on Elmer Valo's two-out two-run pinch single in the ninth inning.

The night cap victory went to reliever Jim Grant, who worked the final inning. Cal McLish, who started for the Indians in quest of his 20th victory, was pounded for six runs on eight hits in the first three innings.

Outfielder Rocky Colavito contributed his 42nd home run of the season to the second game victory, getting it in the second inning off Bud Daley. Bob Grim, who relieved Daley in the sixth, was the loser.

Gene Leek started the Indians' ninth inning rally with a double and scored on Ray Webster's single. A tumble by Jerry Lumpe let Carroll Hardy get all the way to second, and Hardy scored behind Webster on Valo's pinch single.

Hal Smith's two-run double in the second inning was the big blow in a four-run rally that got the Athletics off to a 4-0 lead against McLish.

Rookie southpaw Jake Striker, up from San Diego for his first major league game, won the opener. He pitched the first 6-2-3 innings and was nixed for eight 7-15 of the Athletics' 11 hits.

Rawls Draws Within Stroke Of Randolph

BURNEYVILLE, Okla. (AP) — Betsy Rawls shot a 5-under-par 73 in the second round of the $7,500 Opie Turner Women's Open Golf Tournament Friday but failed by a stroke to catch Bonnie Randolph, Naples, Fla., the first day leader.

Miss Randolph shot steadily in the second round and finished with a 76 to go with an opening 71 for a 36-hole total of 147. Miss Rawls, the 31-year old Spartanburg, S. C., shotmaker and winner of nine tournaments this year, had a 75 in the first round and posted a 148 total.

Scores generally were a little higher than the first round and a strong south wind whipped across the 6,641-yard course build by oil millionaire Waco Turner. Women's par is 40-38-78.

Miss Rawls drove in an eagle and five birdies on her way to a challenging position for Saturday's final 18-hole round.

She picked up $335 in bonus prizes offered by Mrs. Turner who now has doled out $4,450 in two days of play. Miss Rawls collected $500 for her eagle, $250 for the best round of the day, $75 for her birdies and $20 for hitting the 18th green with her tee shot.

Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., and Joyce Ziske, Milwaukee, were tied at 151 and still were given a chance for first money if they should come through with a good final round. Both shot 74 Friday and both had first round 77s. Miss Suggs missed a 4-foot putt on the final green which would have tied Miss Rawls for the low scoring prize.

Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., added a 74 to her opening 78 for a 152. Defending champion Mickey Wright of San Diego added a 79 to her first round 78 for a 157 total.

Marilynn Smith, Wichita, Kan., picked up an extra $500 for an eagle Friday when she holed a 40-yard wedge shot.

Bosox Pound 7 Nat Hurlers For 10-4 Win

BOSTON (AP) — Boston jumped on seven Washington pitchers for 13 hits and a 10-4 victory Friday night, moving the Red Sox into sole possession of fifth place and dropping Baltimore into sixth.

The Red Sox bunched their scoring into two big innings, five in the fourth and three in the sixth. All the sixth inning runs came in when Senator center fielder Bob Allison dropped a bases-loaded fly ball.

Pete Runnels lashed a two-run double off the Red Sox' bullpen for the big hit in Boston's fourth inning explosion that wiped out a 4-1 Washington lead.

Other officers elected were Leo Cheek, vice president and secretary — treasurer, Rev. Paul Brooks.

Each member was assigned 5 names to contact in the interest of obtaining new members. The membership of the organization now stands at 40.

Umpire Frank Dascoli decided to call off the game after a last-minute check with the Weather Bureau, which until an hour before game time held out hope the rain would stop.

Because of the importance of the series, final say on whether the teams would take the field was left to Dascoli, acting as a representative of NL President Warren Giles.

Before Dascoli's decision was relayed to him in the Giants' clubhouse, Rigney said he'd prefer to play two Saturday.

Pre-Game Party For Catahoula Parish Guests

The Elton Murphy home on Lakeshore Drive in Baton Rouge was the scene of a pre-game party for friends from Catahoula Parish who were in Baton Rouge to attend the football game. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy with Mrs. Murphy's sisters, Mrs. J. R. Yancey of Houston, Texas and Miss Daris Chambers of Sicily Island greeted the two hundred guests who called during the hours of 10 til 2. Mrs. Murphy was wearing a black crepe dress accented with a corsage of Fuji chrysanthemums. Corsages were presented to each of her sisters.

The dining room table was centered with a milk glass container filled with yellow mums and white stock. Tall yellow tapers in milk glass holders completed the decor. Similar decorations were used throughout the reception rooms.

As each lady entered and registered, she was presented with a corsage taken from a chrysanthemum tree which stood by the registrant's table.

The social room in which they welcomed guests held large white urns overflowing with mammoth gold chrysanthemums and bronze leaves, and the fireplace which they flanked was filled with leaves of bronze. Another arrangement which attracted attention was on a low table which held a gold candelabra from which lighted yellow tapers cast a soft glow over clusters of small yellow and bronze chrysanthemums tied with matching ribbons.

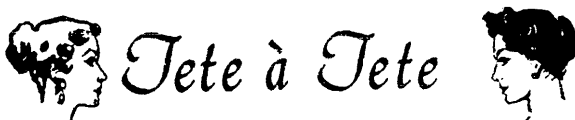

Reflecting the color theme in the reception room were tall standards filled with chrysanthemums and leaves. The motif also was repeated on the tea table, which held silver coffee and punch services and trays of sandwiches and confections. The centerpiece comprised a silver urn with overflowing flowers and fern flanked by silver vases filled with the same flowers and linked with fern and blossoms to the central decor.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Divorce Experience One Can Do Without

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: I know you're against youthful marriages, but I hope you'll admit there are exceptions. We are the exceptions so please listen and give us the go sign.

I'm 16 and quit school last spring. I hated school and wasn't learning anything. My dad said there was no sense loafing in school when I could be earning good money. So I got a job in a supermarket as a checker at $3.50 a week.

My boy friend is 18. He's a mechanic in a garage and earns $73 a week. Together we make more than my dad. We could get a nice apartment and buy furniture on time. We love each other very much and enjoy the same things—roller-skating, swimming, Elvis Presley and drive-in movies. We are both mature for our ages physically and mentally. Please say there's a chance for us. — SO IN LOVE

Dear So: I hear from hundreds of teenagers every week who were also "So In Love." The majority of their marriages are NOT turning out "good." They wish they were back in school where they belong.

Certainly there are exceptions ding cake. Mrs. Alta Boyd was in charge of the guest book.

For her wedding trip, the bride was wearing a blue two piece dress with matching accessories, and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of the Calhoun High School, and the groom graduated from St. Matthews High School in Monroe.

Upon their return from their trip, the young couple will reside in Monroe.

Out - of - town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holder, El Dorado, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Atlas Harrison, Eastrop, La.; Paul Onebone, New Orleans, La., and Mrs. Earl Garland, and Sharon of Calhoun, La.

—and maybe you ARE the rare ones, but playing the long-shots is a dangerous game. You can't build a life on drive-in movies and Elvis Presley. Give yourselves at least another year—then take inventory. It's natural for young people to want to learn from experience, but divorce is one experience you can live without.

Below is a letter which came in today—strange coincidence?

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 17 and my life is such a mess I wish I were dead.

Pete and I were madly in love since 7th grade. He was two years older, and the only guy I ever dated.

On my 16th birthday we crossed the state line and got married. We thought we could keep it a secret but I got pregnant right away and had to tell my folks and quit school. Pete's feelings started to change about that time. We rented a small apartment which he called "the dump." He worked on a construction gang and made good money, but living expenses were high and there was nothing left.

The real trouble started when he took up with some bums who hung around the tavern. He began to make excuses for not coming home. His drinking got worse. When my brother told me he saw Pete with another girl I almost died.

Last week Pete suggested I go back to my folks because he'd got nuts in our tiny apartment with a baby crying all the time.

I can't understand what happened to change everything. When we were going together he couldn't stand to be away from me for a single day. Now I have no feelings left for him because he's treated me so rotten. No advice, please, Ann. I didn't listen to you last year when you said not to do it. — SWEET 17

Reception Honors New Faculty At College

Northeast State's president, Dr. George Thomas Walker, Mrs. Walker and the college faculty were reception hosts Tuesday evening in honor of newcomers to the Northeast staff.

Guests included all friends of the college in this area.

The setting for the festive occasion was the social suite of the Student Center, which had been transformed into a fall garden accenting rich mammoth yellow and bronze chrysanthemums in artistic arrangements.

While the large group of visitors mingled with new faculty and staff members and friends, a medley of organ music was played by Miss Beth Brown.

Guests were greeted by Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Hammond, Dr. and Mrs. Clint Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Price, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Mapp, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Holtzclaw, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Huffman and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bentrup.

First Meeting Of Year Held By Drew P.T.A.

The Drew P. T. A. held its first meeting of the new school year Thursday, September 17, at the school. Mrs. Edna Smith, president, presided at the meeting.

The meeting was opened with the P. T. A. prayer led by Mrs. Myrtle Feazel. Minutes were read and approved. The various committees and their chairmen were announced for the current school year.

The principal, Mrs. Burkett, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Margaret Whitman, librarian. She chose for her subject the importance of a centralized library and encouraging children to read.

Mrs. Winger's third grade won the room count.

After the introduction of the teachers and mothers, the meeting was adjourned.

Pre-Game Party For Catahoula Parish Guests

The Elton Murphy home on Lakeshore Drive in Baton Rouge was the scene of a pre-game party for friends from Catahoula Parish who were in Baton Rouge to attend the football game. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy with Mrs. Murphy's sisters, Mrs. J. R. Yancey of Houston, Texas and Miss Darris Chambers of Sicily Island greeted the two hundred guests who called during the hours of 10 til 2. Mrs. Murphy was wearing a black crepe dress accented with a corsage of Fuji chrysanthemums. Corsages were presented to each of her sisters.

The dining room table was centered with a milk glass container filled with yellow mums and white stock. Tall yellow tapers in milk glass holders completed the decor. Similar decorations were used throughout the reception rooms.

As each lady entered and registered, she was presented with a corsage taken from a chrysanthemum tree which stood by the registrant's table.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Leon Hebert, Mrs. Earl Denham, Mrs. John Regan, Mrs. Martin Enright, Mrs. Ralph Teagle, all of Baton Rouge, and Mrs. A. Y. Tillingham of Buras. Mrs. Elmore Lovlon, Jonesville, Mrs. Gertrude Swayze, Miss Narcissa Walter, formerly of Sicily Island.

Among the LSU alumni from Catahoula Parish now living in Baton Rouge who attended were Dr. Martin Wooden, Mrs. Richard Selser, Mrs. Leon Hebert, Mrs. W. A. Prescott, Mrs. Ralph Teagle, Mrs. Charles Bourk, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Enright, Mr. Jay Bailey, Miss Mignonne Yancey, Mr. Aubrey Chisum, Mrs. Gerald Byers, Mr. Lem Wright and Mrs. Dinky Thurman.

SOCIAL The social room in which they welcomed guests held large white urns overflowing with mammoth gold chrysanthemums and bronze leaves, and the fireplace which they flanked was filled with leaves of bronze. Another arrangement which attracted attention was on a low table which held a gold candelabra from which lighted yellow tapers cast a soft glow over clusters of small yellow and bronze chrysanthemums tied with matching ribbons.

Reflecting the color theme in the reception room were tall standards filled with chrysanthemums and leaves. The motif also was repeated on the tea table, which held silver coffee and punch services and trays of sandwiches and confections. The centerpiece comprised a silver urn with overflowing flowers and fern flanked by silver vases filled with the same flowers and linked with fern and blossoms to the central decor.

Serving were: Miss May Read, Mrs. Leon Manley, Mrs. Ray Coffey, Mrs. Arthur James Speece, Mrs. Joseph Robert Brown, Mrs. Eloise Stanhope, Mrs. Davis Bingham, Mrs. E. W. Lockhart, Mrs. C. Prentice Gray, Jr., and Mrs. Carleton Page.

Mrs. Khrush Mother Of 3

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Nikita Khrushchev confirmed Friday that she is the mother of three of the Soviet Premier's children.

When she arrived in the United States 10 days ago it was thought she was the stepmother of the Khrushchev children with her, Julia, Rada and Sergei.

But at a luncheon Friday given by the wife of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Mrs. Khrushchev confirmed reports coming from the State Department that she is the mother of Rada, 29, Sergei, 24, and Yelena, 21, who is a student at Moscow University and did not come on the trip.

Khrushchev's older daughter Julia, who is in her late 30s, and a son Leonid, killed in World War II, were children of his first marriage. The dates of his first wife's death and of his remarriage were not disclosed.

DEAR ABBY

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My son is 15. My neighbors have complained that he and his pals have been shooting at robins' nests with their BB guns. Abby, I had nothing to do with my son's buying a BB gun. He bought it with money saved from his allowance, so I can't take the gun away from him.

The neighbors say that my son killed a few baby robins. But what are a few baby robins compared with a son's love for his mother? I don't want to risk losing my son's love by doing anything that might turn him against me. And I don't want the boy's father to hear of this because I have a terrible temper. What can I do?

DEAR MOM: A boy who uses a BB gun to kill robins should have his gun confiscated, no matter how paid for it. If he saved his money and bought marijuana, would you let him smoke it because he bought it with his own allowance?

Your definition of "love" baffles me. A mother who truly loves her son does not withhold punishment when he needs it. Better to let his ill-tempered father deal with him now than to cry useless tears later. You are raising a problem for society.

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago, when I married Jim (not his real name), his sister, Mary, (not her real name) let me know that I was not welcome in their family. (My "crime" was being older than Jim.) Mary is the bossy sister and she runs his whole family.

I was excluded from all family gatherings. I felt bad, but I never made an issue of it. Now, Mary's daughter (whom I haven't seen in four years) is being married. Mary telephoned me that "Aunties" were expected to give showers, and when am I going to give one?

I don't care to give this bride a shower because I feel that I am being used. My husband says I should give one anyway. What do you say?

BETTY (not my real name)
DEAR BETTY: I say, if you give a shower, you are the biggest drip of all.

DEAR ABBY: A few days ago I found a piece of paper with a girl's name and phone number on it in my husband's wallet. When I questioned him about it, he said he got it from a bartender, but he hasn't called the girl and doesn't intend to. He says I should forget it. Is it possible to trust him after this? Should I believe him and forget it? I don't want anything to happen to our marriage.

MOTHER OF TWO
DEAR MOTHER: Since your husband told you frankly how he came by the name and number I think you can believe him and forget it. If he (1) didn't know how it got into his wallet, (2) claimed he was getting it for a friend, (3) said he'd been carrying it for years and forgot to throw it away... then, you'd have had something to worry about.

Deputies Kill Burglar In Tallulah Try

TALLULAH — A coroner's jury here yesterday returned a verdict of justifiable homicide in the shooting of Herman Hade LeFors Thursday night by officers.

LeFors was shot to death after an abortive attempt to burglarize a farm implement company building here officers said. An accomplice eluded the officers and escaped.

LeFors, a 43-year-old Dallas, Tex., man with a long police record, was shot when he pulled a pistol from his pocket when apprehended by a Madison Parish deputy sheriff and a state trooper the officers said.

FOLLOWED CAR
The deputy spotted the man's car and became suspicious. He contacted the trooper who joined him and they followed the car to the vicinity of the implement company.

The officers hid to observe the men. But by the men efforts to enter the building failed when a glass door broke with so much noise that it scared them off.

The two men fled in different directions and LeFors ran into the officers as they moved from concealment. On contact, LeFors drew his gun and was shot three times.

The officers picked up a cocked .45 caliber pistol by his body. Sheriff C. E. Hester said yesterday that a complete set of burglar's tools was discovered at the scene.

Dallas police officials said yesterday that LeFors had a record of armed robbery, counterfeiting and auto theft. He has served terms in the Oklahoma State Penitentiary and in an Ohio reformatory.

They also said that he had been engaged in locksmith work for the past few months.

night, the four-engined DC7 strained into the air after a falling takeoff, floundered, then plunged into a pine forest. Its gas tanks spewed flames high into the night sky.

In the shattered fuselage, passengers screamed as flames engulfed them. Two families—five persons in each—were wiped out. A steady rain had little effect on the flames.

The worst previous French civil crash was in Cairo in 1936 when 52 persons died.

No details of the investigation were revealed by the government, or the privately owned airline, TAI (Transports Aeriens Intercontinentaux). The last reported contact with the plane was when it was cleared to take off. Crowds watched the crash from the airport where many had just wished relatives and friends bon voyage.

French airman Jean Peylet was first to reach the crash.

"The plane had been torn apart," he said, "it was a big oven-near the flames a baby girl was screaming for her mother."

Andre Dubedat, who lives near the airport, said he saw a crewman stumble out of the wreckage and fall. "He got up and automatically walked back into the flames," he said.

"I will never forget the screams and suffering during the crash," said Dr. Sekou Sisseko, health minister of the Cameroons and one of the 12 survivors. He was one of six African political figures aboard the plane. Sisseko was pinned to his seat by a tree jammed into the cabin.

"Luckily, the rescue was quick," he said. "In a few minutes rescuers pulled me from my terrible position. Without them, I would have burned alive."

Although it was raining and the wind was stiff, visibility at the airport was good. Because of wind shift, the airman was brought from one runway to another at the last minute. The path of the first runway would have taken the big plane directly over a suburban town.

DEAR ABBY

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My son is 15. My neighbors have complained that he and his pals have been shooting at robins' nests with their BB guns. Abby, I had nothing to do with my son's buying a BB gun. He bought it with money saved from his allowance, so I can't take the gun away from him.

The neighbors say that my son killed a few baby robins. But what are a few baby robins compared with a son's love for his mother? I don't want to risk losing my son's love by doing anything that might turn him against me. And I don't want the boy's father to hear of this because he has a terrible temper. What can I do?

Lobster: Gloria DeHaven's ex, Marty Kimmel, and pretty airlines hostess Jan Mick.

Queen Elizabeth's admirers aren't going to like Canada's new stamp showing Her Majesty in an unbecoming costume. It doesn't come close to doing justice to the beauty Canadians observed when she visited their country. . . .

Marguerite Piazza's doctors have told her to take rest after her next engagement. She's been working far too hard, in their opinion, for the past seven months.

night, the four-engined DC7 strained into the air after a faltering takeoff, floundered, then plunged into a pine forest. Its gas tanks speckled flames high into the night sky.

In the shattered fuselage, passengers screamed as flames engulfed them. Two families-five persons in each-were wiped out. A steady rain had little effect on the flames.

The worst previous French civil crash was in Cairo in 1956 when 52 persons died.

No details of the investigation were revealed by the government or the privately owned airline, TAI (Transports Aeriens Intercontinentaux). The last reported radio contact with the plane was when it was cleared to take off.

Crowds watched the crash from the airport where many had just wished relatives and friends bon voyage.

French airman Jean Peylet was first to reach the crash.

"The plane had been torn apart," he said, "it was a big oven-near the flames a baby girl was screaming for her mother." Andre Dubedat, who lives near the airport, said he saw a crewman stumble out of the wreckage and fall. "He got up and automatically walked back into the flames," he said.

"I will never forget the screams and suffering during the crash," said Dr. Sekou Sisseko, health minister of the Cameroons and one of the 12 survivors. He was one of six African political figures aboard the plane. Sisseko was pinned to his seat by a tree jammed into the cabin.

"Luckily, the rescue was quick," he said. "In a few minutes rescuers pulled me from my terrible position. Without them, I would have burned alive."

Although it was raining and the wind was stiff, visibility at the airport was good. Because of wind shift, the airliner was brought from one runway to another at the last minute. The path of the first runway would have taken the big plane directly over a suburban town.

BASTROP — Today is the final day of a "very outstanding" fair and Cotton Festival here, according to fair officials. The feature attraction today will be the final three performances of the Southwestern horse show, starring Dale Robertson, television's western hero of the Wells Fargo series.

The show is at the arena of the fair grounds.

The horse show is heralded as one of the most outstanding of its type anywhere. It is sponsored locally by Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Garner. The Garners have their own stable and will be exhibiting their animals along with those of stables from many other states including Oklahoma.

IN SESSION HERE

District Court's Schedule Heavy

Ben Barnes, charged with theft of $15 and $10, was tried, found guilty and sentenced to six months in jail yesterday by Judge David I. Garrett in Fourth District Court.

He received a three-month term on each charge.

In other court action, Spencer Brown, 17, of Morehouse parish, pled guilty to simple burglary in the entry of Nichols Wrecking Co. yard on Highway 80 east on Nov. 13, 1958.

REMANDED

He was remanded for a pre-sentence investigation.

Fourteen other cases were set for trial yesterday:

ENTERS PLEA

William L. Goodman was the first man to be fined on the charge since July 6.

On that date, Judge Garrett, termed the law invalid, and the District Attorney's office appealed his action to the Supreme Court.

Fourth District Court may not find anyone guilty of drunk driving until the Supreme Court rules on the matter.

However, Judge Garrett said yesterday that if anyone charged with the offense wants to plead guilty, that person may do so and be fined.

LICENSES

Judge Garrett, lashed out at persons who drive without proper licenses.

He said that they have been the cause of many accidents and warned that the Court will not show leniency to persons charged with the offense in the future.

A hint that the license bureau should be stricter in issuing licenses was also voiced by Garrett.

IN SESSION HERE

District Court's Schedule Heavy

Ben Barnes, charged with theft of $15 and $10, was tried, found guilty and sentenced to six months in jail yesterday by Judge David I. Garrett in Fourth District Court.

He received a three-month term on each charge.

In other court action, Spencer Brown, 17, of Morehouse parish, pled guilty to simple burglary in the entry of Nichols Wrecking Co. yard on Highway 80 east on Nov. 13, 1958.

REMANDED
He was remanded for a pre-sentence investigation.

Fourteen other cases were set for trial yesterday:

J. D. Samuel was tried and fined $50 or 20 days in the Ouachita Parish jail for reckless driving. Herbert Wilson Jr. pled guilty to the offense and was fined $25 or 10 days; Luther Wingard's trial was rescheduled for Oct. 9. Levy Colvin was tried, found guilty and fined $25 or 10 days.

Stiffer fines were dealt to two other men tried on reckless driving charges.

Frank Wilson was fined $100 or 30 days and 30 days compulsory. James Curtis Douglas was fined $100 or 60 days.

Ted E. Kattawar and James H. Loyett admitted driving without a license. Each was fined $25 or 10 days.

Charges of failure to post bond against Edwin E. Andrews were dropped, since he posted bond in Lincoln parish.

Trial for Jessie C. Sepulveda, charged with negligent injuring, was continued without date.

CONTINUED
Also continued without date was trial for William B. Sims, charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages, resisting an officer and driving without a chauffeur's license.

Elmer G. Moore, due for trial on a charge of simple obstruction of a highway of commerce, failed to appear and forfeited bond.

Eight persons charged with felonies were listed on the docket. Bobby Glenn Black denied removing mortgaged property out of state and trial date was set for Nov. 18.

Marion Whitfield Driggers, charged with attempted incest, will be tried Feb. 8.

Jimmy Harrell's trial date was set for Oct. 9. He is charged with theft of $90.

Trial for Willie Lewis and Andrew Parker, both in jail on charges of theft of a $65 skillsaw was set for Nov. 19.

Charles D. Simpson, charged with arson with intent to defraud, will be tried Feb. 8.

Trial for Charles L. Swenson on charges of theft of $583.08 will be held on Nov. 19.

Alonzo Dixon Jr., Negro charged with murder, appeared and two attorneys were appointed by the court to defend him.

Lewis Bird Armstrong denied a charge of forgery and will be tried Nov. 19.

ENTERS PLEA

Although the technical legality of the charge "driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages" is being studied by the state Supreme Court, one man pled guilty to the charge yesterday and was fined $300 or 60 days.

William L. Goodman was the first man to be fined on the charge since July 6.

On that date, Judge Garrett termed the law invalid, and the District Attorney's office appealed his action to the Supreme Court.

Fourth District Court may not find anyone guilty of drunk driving until the Supreme Court rules on the matter.

However, Judge Garrett said yesterday that if anyone charged with the offense wants to plead guilty, that person may do so and be fined.

Jack Bishop pled innocent to driving while intoxicated and his trial was set for Nov. 13.

Leon Charles Bowers, charged with illegal possession of a central nervous system stimulant, pled innocent and trial is set for Nov. 13.

Jimmy Allen Rose pled guilty to driving without a license. He was given a compulsory 30-day term in the parish jail, and fined $50 or 20 additional days in jail.

Soviet Press Cartooning Khrush Trip

MOSCOW (AP) — For the first time in history, the Soviet press published a cartoon of Premier Nikita Khrushchev Friday.

This event dramatized the spectacular change in Soviet reporting brought about by Khrushchev's trip to the United States.

There never was cartoon of Stalin or any other Soviet premier. Pravda officials confirmed this as a first.

Friday's, printed in the Communist party organ, was reprinted from the Hungarian newspaper Nepszabadsag. In evident reference to burying references which have been plaguing Khrushchev's trip—especially with Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles — it showed him with a spade about to dig a grave.

Looking on were Eisenhower and other unidentified figures.

The caption said: "Gentlemen, we have some public works to get done. Let's bury the hatchet together."

Ever since Khrushchev has been in America, papers here—beside printing full tests of all his speeches — have been giving revealing and interesting facets of his daily life in the strange world of capitalism.

There are frequent references to his wife, whose existence was never mentioned in the Soviet press previously.

proper muffler and failure to post bond. Trial is scheduled for Nov. 13.

A charge of simple burglary was amended. It had been placed against J. W. Jennings. His name was corrected, to read J. B. Jennings.

John Frank McDaniel and James Edward McDaniel denied a charge of theft of a $19 tire and wheel and trial is set on Oct. 9.

Five men denied a charge of disturbing the peace, and trial for them is set for Dec. 11.

Jena Sets Night Class For Adults

JENA (Special) — Adult education classes, sponsored by the LaSalle Parish school board, will be organized next week at Jena High School and LaSalle High School at Olla. It was announced this week by Ed Bass, parish visiting teacher and supervisor of adult education.

The classes are for all adults, 16 years of age or over, who have not completed their high school education and who now wish to finish their educational work, Bass said.

Classes in the south end of LaSalle parish will be organized at Jena high school Monday night, Sept. 28, at 7 o'clock, Bass said. Classes for the north end of the parish will be organized Tuesday night, Sept. 29, at 7 o'clock, at LaSalle high school in Olla.

QUALIFY

Persons who complete the course of instruction offered through the adult education program qualify for "certificates of equivalency", that is, the certificates are "equivalent" to a high school diploma. Such certificates are accepted by law, at all state supported colleges and universities and are generally recognized by industries which require that their employees have a high school education, Bass said.

The courses are offered free of charge, through the LaSalle parish school board in co-operation with the adult education division of the state department of education.

LSU Tower Renovation Is Slated

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Louisiana State University's 36-year-old landmark, the Memorial Tower, will be stripped bare to its skeleton and completely renovated beginning next month.

Water has seeped into the 175-foot tower over the years and rusted its steel skeleton, necessitating the entire removal of the masonry to allow a flame-cleaning and rust-inhibiting painting of the steel. The structure is also badly cracked and becoming unsafe because no expansion joints were built into it originally.

Executive Vice President Daniel Borth of LSU stated that the tower will be waterproofed after its renovation and "re-produced exactly as it is" for the sake of tradition. Bids are now being advertised and work is expected to begin near the end of October and be finished in six to eight months, he said.

Though the appearance of the tower will remain the same, it will be equipped with an automatic carriage system, new clock hands, spotlights for the clock face and changeable colored lights for the cupola. The student body has wanted the colored lights for some years to signal the victory or defeat of the LSU Tigers and to promote other campus events.

Architects for the project are Richard Koch and Samuel Wilson Jr. of New Orleans who also designed the Anglo-American Art Center which will be established in the base of the Tower while the upper structure undergoes repair.

Pre-Dawn Fire Injures One, Burns Trucks

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A spectacular pre-dawn fire at the Esso Standard Oil Co.'s Tyler pipeline terminal Friday destroyed a loading platform and three big trucks being filled with gasoline.

One workman, Earl N. Rivley, 36, was burned, but he was released from a hospital after treatment.

C. L. Brock, Esso's district manager, said an official damage figure was not available. However he said he guessed it would run $100,000 "and maybe more." An earlier estimate put the loss at close to $300,000.

The company's safety department was conducting an investigation to determine the cause of the fire, Brock said. Until it is completed, he said, he could say nothing more than it appeared to have been an operating accident.

Franklin Clerk Invites Meg To Come To U.S.

WINNSBORO, La. (AP) — In a sentimental mood this week, Franklin Parish Clerk of Court J. R. (Jimmie) Donnell invited Princess Margaret Rose of England to come to America with a "romantic objective in mind."

With his invitation, which was extended via an air mail letter to the royal bachelor-girl, Donnell offered to provide a marriage license and pay the preacher if she should find a man she can "both love and respect in this country."

Donnell said he wasn't trying to drum up business at his office, since five couples stopped in this week for licenses and business was brisk.

The clerk of court said he addressed the letter to: "Her Royal Highness, Princess Margaret Rose, Buckingham Palace, Buckingham, England."

Socialist Sees Similarity In Economic Way

NEW YORK (AP) — Socialist leader Norman Thomas said Friday the American and Soviet economic systems are getting more and more alike, and probably will substantially resemble each other within 20 years.

Thomas, six times the Socialist party candidate for the presidency and a consistent critic of Communism, also stressed that the Soviet Union's present system is not communism but state capitalism.

He gave his views on a CBS radio program, "The Leading Question." Appearing with him was Edward T. McCormack, president of the American Stock Exchange.

Thomas said "I think that within 20 years there will be a very substantial approximation of the Russian and American economic systems—the differences won't be too great. There is already a tendency in Russia to decentralize."

Car-Train Crash Lawsuit Is Filed

Dennis Freemont Jr. filed a $6091.25 damage lawsuit against the Missouri-Pacific Railroad Co. for injuries he said were received in a train-car collision on Sept. 26, 1953.

Freemont charges that his car was struck as he drove across the Grammont Street railroad crossing.

He maintains that the Missouri-Pacific was negligent in failing to post proper warning devices, and in switching a train across a street crossing without giving adequate warning to drivers.

The suit, filed with the Ouachita Parish Clerk of Court, says that Freemont suffered a neck injury and fractured nose.

Reported Stolen

Two outboard motors valued at $110.30 each were reported stolen from Howard Griffin's store room on South Grand Street yesterday, Monroe police reported.

They were described as new 3-horse power inotors.

Man Is Jailed On Probation Charges Here

A 19-year-old Bastrop Negro was placed in the Ouachita Parish jail yesterday on charges of probation violation.

Johnnie Maurice Johnson was taken in custody at the Morehouse parish jail in Bastrop by U. S. Deputy Marshal Russell Jordan.

He had been arrested by the Morehouse Sheriff's Department on a local charge.

Originally found guilty in federal court on a postal violation charge, Johnson now faces a court hearing to determine whether he will be sent to a federal prison or put back on probation.

Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. of Shreveport is due in Monroe next Friday, to conduct civil pre-trial hearings.

There is a possibility that Dawkins might take Johnson's case under consideration at that time.

Publication Of 'Lovely La.' Slated

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Plans are now under way for publishing the second edition of the 'Lovely Louisiana' travel guide, Mayor Sidney Gray of Lake Charles, president of the Louisiana Municipal Association, said here yesterday.

The announcement was made following a meeting of the LMA executive board.

Mayor Gray said that it was unanimously agreed that the travel guide, one phase of the LMA's nine-point tourist inducement program, had been a major factor in the rapid growth of the tourist business in the past year.

ACCLAIM
It was also pointed out that 'Lovely Louisiana' has won wide acclaim and is continuing to attract visitors to the State. More than 36,000 copies have been distributed throughout the United States and foreign countries.

The next guide will have a new cover and new layout — completely different from the first issue — Mayor Gray said.

A committee composed of newspaper editors and writers, and public relations and advertising people will be asked to work in an advisory capacity with the LMA editorial staff in determining the format and editorial content of the new guide book.

Reduction Seen In City Payroll

With the dropping of extra summer workers from the city's payroll, Monroe's maintenance costs have been reduced by about $3,000, Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard told the press yesterday.

Howard estimated that about 35 additional employees were put on during the summer to help maintain the city and Swayze Natatorium.

The mayor said the maintenance payroll dropped from about $31,000 during the summer to $28,000 now.

2 Cheer Leaders Selected At Tech

Nineteen freshman coeds competed for the chance to lead the student body in its verbal support of the Tech teams.

Stab Victim Has Stroke In Hospital

HYANNIS, Mass. (UPI)—Walter F. Munford, 59, president of U.S. Steel Corp., suffered a stroke in a hospital while recuperating from an accidentally inflicted knife wound, it was disclosed Friday.

A doctor said the $250,000 a-year head of the strikebound steel firm was "not in critical condition."

Munford was stricken at Cape Cod Hospital Thursday, 24 hours after he was admitted for a knife wound in the abdomen.

Dr. Robert B. O'Connor, U.S. Steel Corp. medical director, said Munford suffered a cerebral thrombosis or stroke which caused paralysis in his right arm and some loss of speech.

"He is not in critical condition" but the stroke will "materially delay his recovery" from the knife wound suffered in his Chatham home Wednesday, O'Connor said.

O'Connor said a neurologist and a neurosurgeon from Boston were summoned to Munford's bedside Thursday night. He also was visited by his wife and a clergyman.

Munford was described as "alert and responsive" this morning.

The stroke and the knife were not disclosed for several hours after they happened.

Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis said Munford's knife wound was accidental. Dinis said, after an investigation, that Munford was carrying the knife and some soiled dishes when he stumbled and fell. The knife penetrated his abdomen about three inches.

Jena Sets Night Class For Adults

JENA (Special) — Adult education classes, sponsored by the LaSalle parish school board, will be organized next week at Jena High School and LaSalle High School at Olla. It was announced this week by Ed Bass, parish visiting teacher and supervisor of adult education.

The classes are for all adults, 16 years of age or over, who have not completed their high school education and who now wish to finish their educational work, Bass said.

Classes in the south end of LaSalle parish will be organized at Jena high school Monday night, Sept. 28, at 7 o'clock, Bass said. Classes for the north end of the parish will be organized Tuesday night, Sept. 29, at 7 o'clock, at LaSalle high school in Olla.

Persons who complete the course of instruction offered through the adult education program qualify for "certificates of equivalency", that is, the certificates are "equivalent" to a high school diploma. Such certificates are accepted, by law, at all state supported colleges and universities and are generally recognized by industries which require that their employees have a high school education, Bass said.

Soybean Show Being Planned In Jonesville

JONESVILLE (Special) — The annual Soybean Festival will get underway here Oct. 15 to run through the 17th.

Competition for princess and queen will be held in the elementary school auditorium. The princess contest will be at 7:30 Thursday night and the queen will be chosen Saturday night at 7:30. Contests will include the Little Princess, 5-5; Junior Princess, 6-12; Princess, 13-16 and Queen, 17-24.

LSU Tower Renovation Is Slated

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Louisiana State University's 36-year-old landmark, the Memorial Tower, will be stripped bare to its skeleton and completely renovated beginning next month.

Water has seeped into the 175-foot tower over the years and rusted its steel skeleton, necessitating the entire removal of the masonry to allow a flame-cleaning and rust-inhibiting painting of the steel. The structure is also badly cracked and becoming unsafe because no expansion joints were built into it originally.

Executive Vice President Daniel Borth of LSU stated that the tower will be waterproofed after its renovation and "re-produced exactly as it is" for the sake of tradition. Bids are now being advertised and work is expected to begin near the end of October and be finished in six to eight months, he said.

Though the appearance of the tower will remain the same, it will be equipped with an automatic carillon system, new clock hands, spotlights for the clock face and changeable colored lights for the cupola. The student body has wanted the colored lights for some years to signal the victory or defeat of the LSU Tigers and to promote other campus events.

Architects for the project are Richard Koch and Samuel Wilson Jr. of New Orleans who also designed the Anglo-American Art Center which will be established in the base of the tower while the upper structure undergoes repair.

Pre-Dawn Fire Injures One, Burns Trucks

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A spectacular pre-dawn fire at the Esso Standard Oil Co.'s Tyler pipeline terminal Friday destroyed a loading platform and three big trucks being filled with gasoline.

One workman, Earl N. Rivley, 36, was burned, but he was released from a hospital after treatment.

C. L. Brock, Esso's district manager, said an official damage figure was not available. However he said he guessed it would run $100,000 "and maybe more." An earlier estimate put the loss at close to $300,000.

The company's safety department was conducting an investigation to determine the cause of the fire, Brock said. Until it is completed, he said, he could say nothing more than it appeared to have been an operating accident.

Franklin Clerk Invites Meg To Come To U.S.

WINNSBORO, La. (AP) — In a sentimental mood this week, Franklin Parish Clerk of Court J. R. (Jimmie) Donnell invited Princess Margaret Rose of England to come to America with a "romantic objective in mind."

With his invitation, which was extended via an air mail letter to the royal bachelor-girl, Donnell offered to provide a marriage license and pay the preacher if she should find a man she can "both love and respect in this country."

Donnell said he wasn't trying to drum up business at his office, since five couples stopped in this week for licenses and business was brisk.

The clerk of court said he addressed the letter to: "Her Royal Highness, Princess Margaret Rose, Buckingham Palace, Buckingham, England."

Socialist Sees Similarity In Economic Way

NEW YORK (AP) — Socialist leader Norman Thomas said Friday the American and Soviet economic systems are getting more and more alike, and probably will substantially resemble each other within 20 years.

Thomas, six times the Socialist party candidate for the presidency and a consistent critic of Communism, also stressed that the Soviet Union's present system is not communism but state capitalism.

He gave his views on a CBS radio program, "The Leading Question." Appearing with him was Edward T. McCormack, president of the American Stock Exchange.

Thomas said "I think that within 20 years there will be a very substantial approximation of the Russian and American economic systems—the differences won't be too great. There is already a tendency in Russia to decentralize."

Report Car Fire In West Monroe

West Monroe firemen answered a car fire alarm at 701 Natchitoches St. yesterday shortly after noon.

Firemen said a car driven by Mrs. Morie Daniels, 1311 Mark St., West Monroe, had caught fire around the emergency brake. Damage, they said, was confined to that area of the auto.

Rodeo Climax Scheduled At Jackson Fair

JONESBORO (Special) — With judging of livestock Thursday and initial phases of rodeo competition Friday, the Jackson Parish Fair moved toward a climax with final rodeo activities scheduled for Saturday night.

Fair superintendent W. C. Abbott described this year's exhibits as the best in several years.

"I was especially pleased," said Abbott, "with the beef cattle shown." He went on to say he thought the agricultural products displayed were "much better than usual." He also stated there were more and better commercial booths than ever before.

GROOMING
A total of 98 animals were shown Thursday, as months of grooming and training were evident in the entries. There were 36 swine, 33 dairy, and 24 beef cattle in the show. The judges were Joe Bordin, of Ruston and S. J. Carter of Colfax.

Johnny Mac Bond, a blonde sixth grade 4-H Club member monopolized blue ribbon livestock competition, as he took six first places (Three in swine, two dairy and one beef). He also had the grand champion market pig, and the grand champion senior boar pig.

WINNERS

ACCLAIM
It was also pointed out that Lovely Louisiana has won wide acclaim and is continuing to attract visitors to the State. More than 36,000 copies have been distributed throughout the United States and foreign countries.

The next guide will have a new cover and new layout — completely different from the first issue — Mayor Gray said.

A committee composed of newspaper editors and writers, and public relations and advertising people will be asked to work in an advisory capacity with the LMA editorial staff in determining the format and editorial content of the new guide book.

Reduction Seen In City Payroll

With the dropping of extra summer workers from the city's payroll, Monroe's maintenance costs have been reduced by about $3,000, Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard told the press yesterday.

Howard estimated that about 35 additional employees were put on during the summer to help maintain the city and Swayze Natatorium.

The mayor said the maintenance payroll dropped from about $31,000 during the summer to $28,000 now.

2 Cheer Leaders Selected At Tech

RUSTON (Special) — Carolyn LeVasseur of Shreveport and Suzanne Michaud of Jonesboro, both freshmen at Louisiana Tech, have recently been elected cheer leaders.

Miss LaVasseur collected the most votes and Miss Michaud, after a three-way tie, was voted in second place after a run-off election.

Man Is Jailed On Probation Charges Here

A 19-year-old Bastrop Negro was placed in the Ouachita Parish jail yesterday on charges of probation violation.

Johnnie Maurice Johnson was taken in custody at the Morehouse parish jail in Bastrop by U. S. Deputy Marshal Russell Jordan.

He had been arrested by the Morehouse Sheriff's Department on a local charge.

Originally found guilty in federal court on a postal violation charge, Johnson now faces a court hearing to determine whether he will be sent to a federal prison or put back on probation.

Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. of Shreveport is due in Monroe next Friday, to conduct civil pre-trial hearings.

There is a possibility that Dawkins might take Johnson's case under consideration at that time.

Publication Of 'Lovely La.' Slated

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Plans are now under way for publishing the second edition of the 'Lovely Louisiana' travel guide, Mayor Sidney Gray of Lake Charles, president of the Louisiana Municipal Association, said here yesterday.

The announcement was made following a meeting of the LMA executive board.

Mayor Gray said that it was unanimously agreed that the travel guide, one phase of the LMA's nine-point tourist inducement program, had been a major factor in the rapid growth of the tourist business in the past year.

It was also pointed out that Lovely Louisiana has won wide acclaim and is continuing to attract visitors to the State. More than 36,000 copies have been distributed throughout the United States and foreign countries.

The next guide will have a new cover and new layout — completely different from the first issue — Mayor Gray said.

A committee composed of newspaper editors and writers, and public relations and advertising people will be asked to work in an advisory capacity with the LMA editorial staff in determining the format and editorial content of the new guide book.

Car-Train Crash Lawsuit Is Filed

Dennis Freemont Jr. filed a $6091.25 damage lawsuit against the Missouri-Pacific Railroad Co. for injuries he said were received in a train-car collision on Sept. 26, 1958.

Freemont charges that his car was struck as he drove across the Grammont Street railroad crossing.

He maintains that the Missouri-Pacific was negligent in failing to post proper warning devices, and in switching a train across a street crossing without giving adequate warning to drivers.

The suit, filed with the Ouachita Parish Clerk of Court, says that Freemont suffered a neck injury and fractured nose.

Stab Victim Has Stroke In Hospital

HYANNIS, Mass. (UPI) — Walter F. Munford, 59, president of U.S. Steel Corp., suffered a stroke in a hospital while recuperating from an accidentally inflicted knife wound, it was disclosed Friday.

A doctor said the $250,000 a-year head of the strikebound steel firm was "not in critical condition."

Munford was stricken at Cape Cod Hospital Thursday, 24 hours after he was admitted for a knife wound in the abdomen.

Dr. Robert B. O'Connor, U.S. Steel Corp. medical director, said Munford suffered a cerebral thrombosis or stroke which caused paralysis in his right arm and some loss of speech.

"He is not in critical condition" but the stroke will "materially delay his recovery" from the knife wound suffered in his Chatham home Wednesday, O'Connor said.

O'Connor said a neurologist and a neurosurgeon from Boston were summoned to Munford's bedside Thursday night. He also was visited by his wife and a clergyman.

Munford was described as "alert and responsive" this morning.

The stroke and the knife were not disclosed for several hours after they happened.

Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis said Munford's knife wound was accidental. Dinis said, after an investigation, that Munford was carrying the knife and some soiled dishes when he stumbled and fell. The knife penetrated his abdomen about three inches.

Ike Arranges For Khrush To See Sub Movie

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev wanted to see a movie of the trip of the U.S. nuclear-powered submarine Nautilus beneath the ice at the North Pole. President Eisenhower arranged for him to do so after dinner Friday night.

Both Russian and English sound tracks were provided for the 20-minute version of the epochal voyage. U.S. officials said nothing of a classified nature appears in the movie.

The sunroom of Aspen Lodge at Camp David, Md., where the President and Premier are holding their discussions on cold war problems, converts quickly into a small-scale, private movie theater. A screen pulls down from the cornice at one end and a projector is located in an opposite corner.
